WIND CHURNS UP INFERNO IN MARIN

Disasters Flare In N. State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A pall of smoke hung over much of Northern California today—as uncontrolled fires, pushed by high winds, crackled through tinder-dry forests, brush and grasslands.

The last rains fell six months ago, and the winds and low humidity made every new fire a potential disaster.

TWO MEN BURNED

Two men were burned, one seriously, in fighting a blaze that ate its way into the outskirts of Vacaville in Solano County. Twenty homes were destroyed in Vacaville and damage was estimated there at $500,000.

Winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour — with gusts up to 100 miles an hour — were reported throughout the fire area which stretched from extreme northern counties to south of the San Francisco Bay area and the San Joaquin Valley in the central part of the state.

LINES DOWN

Smoke from fires in Solano and Yolo counties where Vacaville, Fairfield and Vallejo are located, hung over San Francisco.

In Vacaville, Fire Chief Warren Hughes said the danger had abated this morning. But his men still bulldozed fire lines and cleared away brush.

Another blaze burned uncontrolled in 4,000 acres of brush and grazing land between Vallejo and Fairfield, southwest of

Homes, Barns Lost In Chileno Valley

By RICHARD LYTTLE
and ROBERT STREBEIGH

Disaster struck the Chileno Valley in North Marin before dawn today as a storm of fire, swept by 80-mile-an-hour winds, raged across the summer-crisp grass.

The fire, originating from a blaze on Bodega Avenue west of Petaluma yesterday, crossed into Marin County on an eight-mile front about 5:30 a.m.

Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said he was first warned of the fire at midnight by the State Division of Forestry, urging him to muster all available equipment.

Among volunteers were two busloads of Air Force personnel from Hamilton Field and two bulldozers. Fire Departments in Terra Linda, Marinwood, Larkspur and Novato sent men and equipment at Chief Bloom's request.

SCANT WARNING

Residents of the Chileno Valley area first saw the angry glow of the fire at 3 a.m., but even this warning was not enough to prepare them for the fury of the fire.

Wives and children of many ranchers quickly packed valuables into cars, leaving their husbands behind to save what structures they could.

KTIM radio announcer John Caple, of 906 Chileno Valley Road, estimated as many as 20 families fleeing toward Petaluma, where he drove his family and pets before returning to save his house.

SAVES OWN HOME

Stanley McDonald, a resident on Chileno Valley Road just north of the Marin County line, succeeded in saving his house with a garden hose, but he had to watch helplessly as a $5,000 barn and $1,800 garage and tractor burned. One of two drums of gasoline standing near the barn exploded and soared 400 feet into the air as a ball of fire, landing 150 feet away.

Novatan Pulls Wife Out Of Blazing Home

Screams Awaken Rescuer; Victim In Fair Shape

By THERON A. NEWELL

Mrs. Thelma Mechin of 795 Story Book Court was hospitalized with third degree burns over her entire body. She was reported in only fair condition at Novato Hospital.

Mrs. Mechin was asleep in a rollaway bed in the living room. Her husband, Eugene Mechin was asleep in another part of the house. Her screams awakened him shortly after 2 a.m.

Her clothes were almost entirely burned off of her by the time he got her across the street to the home of Martha Pedersen at 1733 Center Road, Kidder

Hunters Given Fires Warning

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Thousands of California hunters, poised for the opening of the inland deer season Saturday, were urged by Gov. Brown to use extreme caution with fires.

Hunters were warned that if they contribute to Northern California's explosive fire situation, the governor could invoke a state law closing the hunting season.

Brown urged hunters to camp in improved campgrounds and avoid open fires until conditions improve.

There are more than 400,000 deer hunters in the state, and officials estimate that about half are in the field for the opening of the late or inland season.

Fire Closes San Rafael Businesses

Fourteen pieces of equipment and 15 men under Rodgers responded to the 3:17 a.m. alarm at 934-936 B Street.

The fire was under control in about 20 minutes, according to Rodgers, but it was 5:30 a.m. before the equipment could return to the station.

Most severely damaged was the Elite Barber Shop at 936 B Street, where fire burst through the rear wall, melting fluorescent lights and burning the wall clock to a halt at 3:20 a.m.

Rodgers said, the fire may have started in a wall heater in a storeroom behind the one-story structure. Flames raced up the rear wall, burning through a back-door of Fawn's Beauty Nook at 934 B Street.

Negroes Rejected

Winds Hit Boats, Power

High winds that swept Marin during the night broke power lines, sank two big boats and damaged many others, and strewed streets and highways with tree limbs.

Hamilton Air Force Base reported maximum gusts of 45 miles per hour, but the damage done was out of proportion to wind of such speed.

The whistling wind was laden with smoke from grass and timber fires raging throughout much of the North Bay Area.

Sleepy Hollow east of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. clubhouse was without electricity from 3 a.m. today in the largest of many power outages. Leonard O. Robertson, district electrical superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., said it was hoped to have power restored there soon after noon.

A 38-foot commercial salmon boat, the Seaweed, and a $30,000 fiberglass sailboat sank at Ocean Traders, 2000 Broadway, Sausalito, battered to bits by the gale.

The sailboat was the property of Hugo Fisher, former state senator from San Diego County who heads the War on Poverty in California. The Seaweed is owned by Ed Perowski, a Richmond school teacher.

Two other craft at the same location were severely damaged by slamming against each other in three-to-four foot waves caused by the wind. They are the 40-foot troller Quest, owned by Bob Tunison of San Francisco, and the Helen T. owned by John Tucker of Collinsville, Solano County. Lee Amundsen, dock manager at the pier, which is on Army Corps of Engineers property, estimated damage to them at $3,000 each.

Two wood receivers full of live anchovies were lost when they broke loose at the end of the Napa Street pier in Sausalito. The receivers, owned by

Marin City Teen-Agers Throw Rocks At County Fire-Fighters

County firemen fighting three fires in Marin City last night were harrassed by about 15 teen-agers who threw rocks and tried to steal equipment off fire trucks. The firemen said they believed all three fires were set, but that they were sure one was arson.

Sheriff's officers were called to keep order, but each time a patrol car showed up, the youths would scatter, according to Capt. Sidney Stinson of the sheriff's office. He said none were caught, but that officers today would try to learn the names of persons involved.

The first call was at 8:15 p.m. A grass fire behind 59 Cole Drive burned about a half acre before it was put out. The youths pulled a hose off a truck, but were chased away before they could steal it.

Some firemen fought the fire and others had to stay by the truck to guard equipment, Stinson said. The only piece of equipment lost was a hoe.

The second fire, at 9:05 p.m., was the definite arson attempt. Two blazes were started in puddles of gasoline against separate walls in Building C-44, an abandoned structure on the flat. Both fires were put out without major damage to the building, which is due to be torn down soon anyway.

At 9:58 p.m. another grass fire, this time behind 419 Drake Avenue, was reported. It was allowed to burn only about a 10th of an acre.

Stinson said at one time deputies were called away to check on a family dispute elsewhere in Marin City. While they were away the youths again converged on the firemen, who had to fend them off until officers could come back. No firemen were injured.

National Guardsmen Put On Fire Alert

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Northern California's 49th Infantry Division, composed of 8,000 national guardsmen, was placed on standby alert today for possible firefighting duty.

Lt. Gen. Roderic L. Hill, the adjutant general, added that nine C-97s of the California Air National Guards' 146th Air Transport Wing at Van Nuys also have been placed on an alert status.

Asks Disaster Area

Supervisors Chairman Peter H. Behr said he wired Gov. Edmund G. Brown just before noon today seeking to have the Chileno Valley declared a disaster area. This would bring state and federal assistance, particularly in the form of low-interest loans to ranchers.

State Very Dry, Fire Peril High

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The weather forecast for most of Northern California warned today of low humidity and high fire hazard.

Warmer temperatures were forecast with northeasterly winds. An abating of the winds was promised by tonight.

Rain fell in Southern California in the night.

Slick roads brought the usual increase in freeway accidents. Traffic jammed up earlier, and longer, than usual as drivers tried to avoid collisions.

By dawn some roads were flooded in sections of Orange County.

County Fire Rigs Assist In Petaluma

Fire departments throughout Marin County responded early today to calls for assistance from Sonoma County fighting extensive fires in the Petaluma-Cotati area.

Five pieces of equipment and 19 men were dispatched by county departments.

At 3 a.m., Tamalpais Fire Department, at the request of County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom, dispatched a pumper truck manned by four men.

At 3:30 a.m., one truck and five men were sent by the Novato Fire Department.

The Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Department sent two pieces of equipment and three men, led by Fire Chief Carl O. Heynen Jr.

At 3:42, the Kentfield Fire Department sent one truck and seven men.

Men and equipment were dispatched to stations in Cotati and Penngrove, where they were assigned to fires in the area.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Garbo To Be 60 Sunday

Garbo

Perhaps none of the new legendary celebrities of the movie world, with the exception of the elusive industrialist and star-maker, Howard Hughes, is as little known as Garbo. She has a small, golden ring of celebrity friends who rarely break their conspiracy of silence about the actress.

"She always enters a room like a crab—sideways," said a woman writer who introduced Garbo to her closest friend, the late George Schlee and his wife, Valentina.

"She's not very good at conversation, but has a curiosity about other people's lives and can ask very blunt questions."

Searchers Find Chlorine Barge

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A five-day search for a barge loaded with potentially deadly chlorine ended successfully last night and Louisiana turned again to its task of cleaning up from Hurricane Betsy.

A team of more than 300 Navy, Coast Guard and Army searchers found the barge shortly before midnight in the Mississippi River south of Baton Rouge. The U.S. Corps of Engineers said there was no danger to residents in the area. Thousands of gas masks had been rushed to the Louisiana capital as a precaution. They were not needed.

Tracy Reported Better

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Correction of a body chemical imbalance after prostate surgery has improved the condition of two-time Academy Award-winner actor Spencer Tracy, his doctor reports.

Tracy

Tracy, 65, underwent surgery for removal of the prostate gland Sept. 4 and had been recovering successfully when complications developed Monday.

Tracy was placed on the critical list for 24 hours at Good Samaritan Hospital. The hospital said after treatment for an electrolyte imbalance that Tracy's condition was improved and was not considered serious.

Tracy has been plagued with illness for the past two years.

He collapsed in the summer of 1963 with pulmonary edema—lung congestion—and was confined for 13 days. In December of that year his health forced him to withdraw from a role in John Ford's Western film "Cheyenne Autumn." He was replaced by Edward G. Robinson.

Highway Bill Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The highway beautification bill cleared the Senate by an overwhelming 63-14 vote last night. The House Public Roads subcommittee met at the same time and cleared a similar version. The full House Public Works Committee scheduled a session on it today.

Revolt Crushed

CAIRO (AP) — An attempted coup in Iraq has been crushed, Iraqi sources in Cairo said today. The bid to take over the government came while President Abdel Salam Aref was absent from the country attending the Casablanca Arab summit meeting. It was put down by the president's brother, the sources said.

LBJ's Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave a dinner at the White House last night for nearly 100 business, labor and science leaders. It was one in a series he has held for private discussion of domestic and foreign problems.

Whites Jeer As Negroes Join Dance

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — A street dance for returning University of Mississippi students ended abruptly Thursday night when nine Negro students were surrounded and jeered.

The "Welcome Rebel" party for new and returning Ole Miss students was held in a roped off section of the town square here.

When the Negro students, four of them girls, began to dance alongside whites they were surrounded.

The Rev. Jimmy Jones, director of the campus Wesley Foundation, pushed his way through milling white students and asked the Negroes to return to the campus a mile away "in order to prevent an ugly incident from erupting."

Oxford police surrounded the Negroes, who then returned to the campus.

Cause Of Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — An explosion in a Titan missile silo near Searcy, Ark., last month was caused by a welder's torch bumping against a line carrying inflammable fluid, Pentagon investigators have reported. The Aug. 10 blast killed 53 civilian workers, presumably including the unnamed welder.

'Flaypast' For Queen

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, will watch a "flypast" of Royal Air Force Lightning fighters on Battle of Britain Sunday, it was announced Thursday. The event marks the 25th anniversary of the Royal Air Force's defense of the country during the World War II blitz.

War Bonus Asked

ROME (UPI) — The Italian Seamen's Union yesterday asked for 'war risk bonuses" for the crews of ships sailing in the waters of Viet Nam, Pakistan and India.

Bridge Bombing Being Probed

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A flight of planes bombed a bridge in the demilitarized zone dividing South and North Viet Nam and a U.S. spokesman said today it is believed the planes involved were American.

He said the bombing last night could be "assumed to be in error."

He added: "If an investigation shows that the bombs hit in the demilitarized zone, this is clearly a departure from the rules. We have not previously struck the zone."

The bridge is about 80 miles north of Da Nang, the big U.S. air base 380 miles north of Saigon.

The International Control Commission began an immediate investigation. India, Canada and Poland compose the commission.

In other air activity, two U.S. Air Force jet planes were shot down in North Viet Nam yesterday by automatic weapons fire during a six-plane F-105 Thunderchief raid 80 miles northwest of Hanoi, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

The pilots were listed as missing. The downings brought to 92 the number of U.S. planes shot down since air strikes began February, spokesmen said.

School Bus Drags Boy For A Mile

OREGON CITY, Ore. (AP)—As his mother watched in horro, 7-year-old Clay Moncrief was dragged down a rural highway for one mile by a school bus filled with his classmates.

The bus driver, unaware of the boy's plight, continued on to his next stop before the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Moncrief, caught up.

Clay was standing beside the front tire, dazed and in shock. His feet and legs were raw and bleeding, his cowboy boots were burned off and his clothes were in shreds.

His condition in a local hospital today was satisfactory.

The accident occurred Wednesday.

"I was standing in the kitchen when the bus drove up in front. Then the bus pulled away and I heard Clay scream. His fingers were caught in the front door of the bus," Mrs. Moncrief said.

There were 38 children in the bus driver William Dickman said he couldn't hear the boy's screams and the boy was in a spot that didn't show in the rear view mirror.

Test Ordered In Fire Case

MARYSVILLE (AP) — Sutter County Superior Court is ordering a mental test for a man who admitted setting a $408,000 J. C. Penney Co. fire.

Theodore William Elliott, 35, was before the court on a arson charge.

He was arrested after a Sept. 8 dwelling fire in nearby Nicolaus and volunteered the information that he had also set the fire that destroyed the Penney store last year, a spokesman for the district attorney's office said.

Alabama Public Safety Director Lingo Resigns

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Col. Albert Lingo, director of Alabama's Public Safety Department, has resigned, apparently to seek an elective office although he claims to have no firm plans.

Lingo's resignation as head of the state's law enforcement division becomes effective Oct. 1. He said yesterday he has "had requests from throughout the state to run for governor and for sheriff of Jefferson County."

He is expected to seek the sheriff's position in Alabama's most populous county which includes the city of Birmingham.

Gov. George Wallace, in announcing the resignation Thursday, said that Lingo has served the state "ably and well."

Alps Accidents

BERN, Switzerland (UPI) — Accidents in the Swiss Alps killed 142 tourists, skiers and mountain climbers in 1964, the Swiss Alpine Club reported Thursday. The total was the second-highest on record for a single year, topping the previous high of 150 fatalities in 1962.

Maine Wife Terrorized, Abducted

ORRINGTON, Maine (UPI)—Police launched a search across the northeast and eastern Canada today for a gun-waving mental hospital escapee who kidnaped a doctor's wife after terrorizing her family for six hours.

State police said Roger R. Haller, 31, of Bangor, who escaped from Bangor State Hospital Saturday by overpowering an attendant, forced his way into the suburban home of Dr. John F. McGinn yesterday afternoon.

Brandishing a gun, Haller terrorized Mrs. Lynn McGinn, 30, and her two children for more than six hours before abducting her in the family station wagon while her husband was summoning police.

When McGinn returned home yesterday he found his family held captive. He convinced Haller it would look suspicious if he did not make his house calls.

The fugitive agreed to release the doctor and McGinn, an orthopedic surgeon, telephoned police. When officers arrived, Haller already had forced Mrs. McGinn into the station wagon and fled.

The couple's two children, Stacey, 4, and Peirce, 1, were not harmed.

State troopers immediately sealed off the area with roadblocks but it was uncertain how much of a head start Haller had.

Lt. Col. Hope W. Metzger of Tiburon has been reassigned to Pacific Army Headquarters in Hawaii after receiving a cluster to her Army Commendation medal for her service with the Sixth Army.

She was presented the award at the Presidio of San Francisco for her work as Sixth Army Women's Corps staff adviser, for the past four years, supervising the activities of more than 100 WAC officers and 900 enlisted women in eight Western States.

Train Hops Rails, Sets Oregon Fire

OAKLAND, Ore. (AP) — A freight train derailed near this southern Oregon town today, stacking up 26 cars of a 65-car train and starting a fuel fire on the tracks.

A crew from the Douglas Forest Protective Assn. controlled the fire. It had the added problem of keeping fuel from ruptured gasoline and oil tankers from leaking into the flames.

Nobody was hurt in the pileup on the Southern Pacific's Siskiyou freight line, but one lane of U.S. 99 was blocked by a freight car hurled onto the highway.

A Southern Pacific spokesman said he did not know what caused the derailment.

Overturn Kills Fire Volunteer

PLACERVILLE (AP) — A firetruck overturned late last night one mile west of the community of Latrobe, killing a volunteer fireman, the California Highway Patrol said.

Dead on arrival at Twin Lakes Hospital in Folsom was Peter L. Bertelsen, 32, of El Dorado Hills, who was pinned in the fire truck's cab.

Authorities said the truck was returning from a brush fire south of Placerville.

CREEPING FURY—Aerial photo by Russ Reed of the Oakland Tribune shows valley farms near Vacaville being swept bare by grass fire late yesterday. Nearly two dozen homes outside Vacaville proper were lost, and Sacramento-bound traffic halted for hours as firemen made a last-ditch stand to save the famous Nut Tree restaurant and airport. Another major fire later broke out nearby, between Fairfield and Vallejo. (AP Wirephoto)

Homes, Barns Burned In Chileno Valley

Homes destroyed were those of Elmo Corda on Chileno Valley Road north of the Sonoma County Line, and Mrs. Ida Petersen, who lives on the Wilson Hill Road in Marin County.

Mrs. Petersen, with the help of county firemen, was able to move her few head of livestock into a neighbor's pasture and to get some personal effects from the house before it went up in flames.

She said the attempt to save her house failed when a large tank building adjacent to it caught fire and fell over on the roof of the home. The six-room home had been in her family for 90 years.

A weary Chief Bloom estimated the fire had destroyed about 150 structures — mostly barns and outbuildings — and had blackened 8,000 acres, some 2,000 of them in Marin County. He said fast-moving fire crews were able to save many homes by wetting them down at the crucial moment of threat and rushing on to the next.

It was impossible for the chief to give an accurate estimate of the numbers of fighters on the fire lines. He said it was probably around 300, including 50 from Hamilton Air Force Base. He said 20 bulldozers were working at one time, but later several of them were called away to fight a major fire near Cotati.

Bloom said the loss of buildings, pastureland and hay may "put many of these ranchers out of business." McDonald, for instance, said he did not have a blade of grass left on his property. His sheep, however, were saved when a neighbor cut a fence and drove them away from the fire.

Most vulnerable, throughout the region, were chickens which were trapped in coops destroyed by the fire.

Power was off throughout the area soon after the fire struck. Since all the ranch water systems depend on electric pumps, many ranches found themselves without water at the height of the blaze.

Classes at the Laguna School on Chileno Road were cancelled till Monday. The school, across the road from the destroyed Corda residence, was not burned.

Flames stopped at the road, then swept around behind the 1906 school within 100 yards. Teacher-Principal Julia Silva said the 20 pupils would not attend because of the loss of water and fact that so many families had had to evacuate the area.

There was only one injury reported, that suffered by Kenneth Fowler, 19, of 225 Nova Albion Way, Terra, Linda, a member of the Terra Linda volunteer fire department. His left arm was burned when struck by a hot cinder. He received emergency medical attention and returned to the fire lines with a patch over his arm.

There were still several hot-spots, but with the earlier heavy winds subsiding to a moderate breeze, there appeared to be no immediate threat to other structures in the area.

NOVATO

said. Mechin then called the fire department at 2:35 a.m.

The living room was in flames when firemen arrived, with the fire concentrated around the bed, Kidder said. The fire had burned through the hardwood floor and sub-flooring under the bed. Kidder blamed a short-circuit in either an electric blanket or in the wall connection.

There was extensive damage to the living room and smoke damage all through the house, he said.

A canary in a cage in the living room was dead.

The Novato Fire Department was kept busy all night with fires. They started at 5:30 p.m. yesterday when a cigarette was blamed for a grass and brush fire which burned three acres at the J. S. Sutton residence at 285 Crest Road, Black Point.

Firemen were still mopping up on that fire when they were called to a grass fire at the end of Stone Drive at 11:15 p.m. This was caused by sparks from arcing electrical wires, Kidder said. It burned 25 acres of grass and brush.

Firemen were still fighting that fire when called to Story Book Court, according to the assistant chief.

Part of the force had to leave that fire to go to a grass fire at 3:20 a.m. at the home of Sam Harkleroad at 4 Harkle Road. This also was caused by broken electrical wires, Kidder said.

Just 20 minutes later, the department dispatched a truck and five men to the Cotati-Penngrove fire on a plea for help from Sonoma County.

"We were kept so busy running to the small fires caused by arcing wires that we could not keep track of all of them," Kidder said.

At 7:30 a.m., Fire Chief George Cavallero took two buses with 50 volunteers from Hamilton Air Force Base to the Chileno Valley fire.

Flaming Disasters Sweep North Bay, Mountains

Vacaville. Officials at the State Disaster Control headquarters in Fairfield said this blaze had destroyed an undetermined number of ranch buildings, but threatened no town.

The biggest fire in the state roared along a six-mile-wide strip in a remote area of Glenn and Colusa counties.

Information officer Robert MacLean of the State Division of Forestry office in Santa Rosa said that fire consumed some 30,000 acres during the night and had burned a strip more than 50 miles long.

"There are some ranches in that country, but communications are so bad we haven't had a chance to assess damage," MacLean said.

He said the situation was the same throughout the northern part of the state.

"All we've been able to do so far is to dispatch as many men as we can to each new fire. We just haven't had a chance to count damage. The wines are still blowing strong, and we've alerted everybody," MacLean added.

Injured in fighting the blaze at Vacaville were Fire Chief Petera Passanando from the nearby town of Fairfield and his captain, Richard Silvey. Passanando was treated for burns at a local hospital and released. Silvey was hospitalized in serious condition with first and second degree burns about the face.

State Highway patrolmen stopped motorists from crossing the Nevada border on Interstate 80, which runs over Donner Summit in mountains between Sacramento and Reno. A forest fire jumped the highway near the mountain community of Auburn.

Serious fires also burned in California's Napa Valley.

An indication of the danger was reported by the state division of forestry office in Sacramento. The indicator it maintains to keep track of fire probability rose to 100 — as high as it can go — in the Napa Valley area. In Sacramento the indicator was at 86.

The state usually considers the situation critical when the gauge hits 50.

Telephone and power lines were downed in several places between Oakland and Livermore, and dozens of small brush fires were reported on both sides of the bay.

In Sacramento, firemen battled 35 minor fires within the city limits. One started when a large television antenna in a residential area was toppled by wind.

Woodacre Blaze Damages Patio

A grass and brush fire threatened two homes in Woodacre yesterday afternoon and did damage estimated at $150 to the patio of one of them.

The blaze was reported at 4:24 p.m. at Rock Ridge and Madrone avenues. Before it was controlled by the Marin County Fire Department, it burned an acre of grass, brush and trees.

Flames licked to the home of Ralph Peterson, burning the roof, with damage estimated at $150. At the nearby home of J. D. Nichols, it destroyed $150 worth of juniper plantings.

The blaze—one of many which kept firemen on the run in Marin throughout yesterday and today—was blamed by Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom to a familiar cause: children with matches.

CHOW LINE CHAMPIONS

Only five weeks old, but already eating good like a St. Bernard should, are these seven puppies fondly watched by mother Astrid, owned by the Kenneth Pratt family, 132 Del Casa Drive, Mill Valley. Although too young to enter Sunday's annual Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club show at Rancho Rafael Motel at Ignacio, the furry Saints likely will be strutting for ribbons there next year. Meanwhile, a record 1,089 purebred dogs from all over the U.S. are being primped up for Sunday's show; judging will run from 9 a.m. to about 8 p.m.

Rights Commission Can't Reach Highway For Racial Dialogue

By FRANK FARRARA

The Marin County Human Rights Commission got hung up last night on the problem of bringing about honest communication between whites and Negroes.

"There is a lack of frank dialogue," said Walter Bremond, county director of community relations.

"Let's lay the cards on the table," Bremond said. "Let's talk about our feelings about one another. "I think the blacks are as dishonest as citizens in other parts of the county."

Rev. John O'Conner questioned how the commission could bring about honest communication "when we are living in a society that is constantly superficial . . . There is very little open communication."

John F. Gardenhire, chairman of the Marin Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, said Negroes have ambivalent feelings toward whites. "You learn early to like white folks and to hate their damn guts," he said.

Gardenhire charged that Tamalpais High School is "a horrible place for Negroes . . . black and whites are not communicating."

Lanny Berry, community services field worker, charged that Gardenhire was "indicting people without much information."

"I'm a Negro and I can't communicate with you," Berry said to Gardenhire, who is also a Negro.

Bremond said that if the problem of communication can be solved anywhere, it can be solved in Marin, which is five to 10 years ahead of other areas of the state in race relations.

Commissioners also tackled the problem of getting people involved in human rights.

Mrs. Inez Bailey said that not one person representing Marin City "was recognized" at a commission meeting Sept. 9 on formation of neighborhood councils.

Mrs. Bailey wanted to know if any of the efforts were reaching "the guys on the corner, at Drake and Cole, shooting dice every day."

Berry said "we're trying and we've done a little, not much."

Best-seller time is tonight

For every I-J advertiser, an advantage in selling

When you, as an advertiser, purchase space in the I-J, your message gains a TIME ADVANTAGE worth dollars and cents in the till. For as an EVENING NEWSPAPER, the I-J reaches your customer prospects at the PRIME BUYING TIME . . . in the evening, when people have the MOST TIME to read and consider your merchandise and prices.

This EVENING READING TIME is nothing to pass over lightly. This is when buying decisions are made . . . when people are relaxed, receptive, actively in search of advertised values. Contrast this with radio, with morning newspapers, with circulars. In the I-J, readers search the ads, page by page. They WANT TO READ, have TIME to read . . . have time to "talk it over," compare, decide. Even the kids get into the act! Small wonder the I-J is Marin's first choice for advertising . . . by both readers and advertisers.

MORE FOR YOUR STORE
The I-J out-sells all other newspapers in Marin. More daily Marin circulation than the Chronicle and Examiner combined.

ALL THAT WORK FOR $18

Sheriff's identification technician Edmond D. Mauberret examines safe stolen from Manzanita School Wednesday night. It had been peeled and left in a clump of trees a few hundred feet from the school in Marin City. Inside had been only $18 in milk money. Another safe, taken the same night from the Housing Authority office in Hilarita Housing, Tiburon, was also found, opened, on a hill behind the project. It had contained about $200 in rent money.

Jetliner Hits Peak In Atlantic, 30 Die

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Pan American World Airways jetliner with 30 persons aboard slammed into the side of a mountain today on the island of Montserrat in the British West Indies.

Ground rescue parties reported no survivors.

The Boeing 707 crashed into a mountain on the south side of the island, the Coast Guard in Miami reported, and the wreckage still was burning when searchers reached it hours later.

"The Coast Guard commander for the Greater Antilles reports that ground parties encountered difficulty in reaching the scene because of terrain and weather," a spokesman said.

The reference to the weather was not clear, but the Weather Bureau in Miami said scattered thundershowers were reported throughout the Leeward Islands in the Lesser Antilles this morning.

The Boeing 707 was a Pan American World Airways Clipper flight bound from Martinique to New York with stops in between. It was last heard from on a landing approach to Antigua in the British West Indies.

Montserrat is about 30 miles southwest of Antigua which is about 1,100 miles southeast of Miami.

The plane was last heard from at 6:25 a.m. (EST), 10 minutes before it was due to land at Antigua, an airline spokesman in New York said.

Coast Guard search and rescue headquarters at Miami said the last radio transmission from the plane was a routine request for permission to make its landing approach at Antigua.

Pan Americans said the plane carried 21 passengers and a crew of 9. It was designated Flight 292, bound from Fort de France, Martinique, for Kennedy Airport in New York, with scheduled stops at Antigua, St. Croix and San Juan.

Goodwill Travel Slated For Glenn

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John H. Glenn Jr., the first American to orbit the earth, will make a three-week goodwill trip to western Europe in October, the White House announced today.

Glenn, a retired Marine colonel, will travel in his capacity as a consultant to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Glenn and his wife will visit Munich the first week in October during the world exhibition of transportation and communications.

Later stops will be Berlin and Bremen in Germany, London, The Hague, Geneva, Rome, Madrid and Lisbon. The White House said dates will be announced later for the tour beyond Munich.

Indonesia Gives New Assurances

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Indonesia assured the United States today that its police have been instructed to prevent violence at demonstrations at U.S. diplomatic missions in Indonesia.

Indonesian Ambassador Lambertus N. Palar told newsmen he gave the assurance to Secretary of State Dean Rusk at a morning meeting at the State Department.

Demonstrations occurred at U.S. consulates in Sorabaya and Medan last week and there has been a long series of demonstrations at those and other U.S. diplomatic installations in Indonesia since 1964.

Winds Drop Marin Power Lines, Sink Two Vessels

Sunbeam Bait Co., were valued at $1,000 each.

Minor damage was reported to boats at Clipper Yacht Co. in Sausalito.

No boats were destroyed at Tiburon and Belvedere, but some boat owners took their craft out into the bay to avoid their being smashed against piers.

Robertson said the power breaks were 'strictly from wind blowing branches down and breaking the lines."

Power was out in most of the Tiburon Peninsula from midnight to 5 a.m. from breaks in three locations on Santa Rosa Avenue in Belvedere where trees fell down, he reported.

There were many breaks of service to a few customers caused by limbs falling on wires, he said. In many instances, firemen were called when sparks flew from breaking lines.

Many small grass fires were blamed to the arcing power lines. Biggest of these burned a 25-acre area at the end of Stone Drive in Novato, breaking out at 11:15 p.m. yesterday. Another burned nearly an acre in Inverness.

Power was off at the county courthouse for about 25 minutes starting at 11:35 p.m. It caught a jury in session in the Harold C. Wasley auto theft case. The jury, deadlocked, was dismissed 10 minutes after the lights came back on.

Boats broke loose at Peacock Gap in San Rafael. Capt. George Miller and 10 men of the Sheriff's Marine Reserve gathered in the boats without serious damage.

Norris M. Rawles, San Rafael public works director, reported three or four trees were blown down on Riviera Drive in Peacock Gap. Another tree went down behind the home of Dr. Harry O. Hund at 558 Belle Avenue, breaking a power line.

Most of the damage in San Rafael was from limbs breaking from trees. Rawles said city crews faced a big cleanup job.

Even bigger was the cleanup job in Novato, according to Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works there. He had a crew out all night cleaning up debris.

Lee Wise, Novato manager of PG&E, reported hot wires were down on Plum Street, Third Street and Grant Avenue during the night. Power was out on Plaza Ampola, Center Road and Hatch Road, going out between 2:30 and 3 a.m., but all service was restored by 9:40 a.m., Wise said.

Ross Wright, manager of Western California Telephone Co. in Novato, reported about 15 lines down this morning from falling branches. However, Gordon C. Davenport, San Rafael manager for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., reported no break in local telephone service.

Two plate glass windows blew out at Johnson's Red Barn furniture store at 857 Grant Avenue, Novato. Flying glass damaged three tables, a couch and a lamp in the store.

At the Marin County Airport, manager Harry Tollefson and his crew were busy all night tying down planes, but none was damaged, he said.

A large eucalyptus tree blew down across Tennessee Valley Road at Marin Avenue.

Convict Crews Help In Battle Against Blazes

More than 400 inmates from San Quentin Prison work camps in northern California were helping today to fight the brush fires in four counties.

Among them are men from the prison's conservation camp in Lake County who were rushed early today to assist at a fire which threatened the town of Middleton.

Uncontrolled fires in this area hampered the search for a 30-year-old inmate who walked away from the Lake County camp at Konocti early yesterday.

Glenn Udell Scoggins is serving a one-year-to-life sentence for robbery and bad checks in Yolo County and had been in prison since June 7.

"We must assume at this stage he has gotten clear of the area," Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today.

Repairs Slated In Marin City

Eight carpenters from Marin County's Carpenters Union Local 35 and 20 young men from Marin City have volunteered to start work Sept. 25 to repair Marin City's community building. They will begin on the gymnasium.

Douglas J. Quiett, of the Marin County Community Relations Service made this report last night to the Marin City Community Services District Board. He said carpenters have agreed to give two week ends work and materials have been ordered.

Quiett also reported that he is hiring personnel to staff recreational and cultural activities in the Community Center. The staff will work Mondays through Fridays from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., with special week end activities. A program is to start "very shortly," he said.

The board commended the community activities committee, appointed by county supervisors, for its work on the program and getting federal finances for it.

Plans are being made to refurnish the lounge and obtain new recreational equipment for the gym, board secretary John A. Thomson reported. He said Mrs. Bert A. Balmer of Mill Valley has given a piano for the lounge.

Directrs agreed to write Housing and Home Finance Agency in Washington to get information on financing to provide facilities for the program of the economic opportunites act already approved for Marin City.

U.S. Marin Elderly Aid Announced

A federal loan of $7,200 was announced in Washington, D.C., today to finance preliminary planning of rental homes for the elderly in Marin County.

The Public Housing Administration announced that the federal money will be advanced to the Housing Authority of Marin so that plans can begin on 36 low-rent homes in Santa Venetia, across from Gallinas School.

This will be the first of 200 rental units for the elderly, which were authorized by Marin voters last November.

When preliminary planning is completed, the Housing Authority of Marin will submit to PHA a program including the site description, sketch plans, and cost estimate.

The program will serve as a basis for an annual contributions contract with the PHA.

Beautiful Flower Is Menace To Bird Life

BOSTON (UPI) —A beautiful flower is becoming a menace to bird life in New England. The wetlands in the fall are aflame with the gorgeous purple of purple loosestrife, but the Massachusetts Audubon Society warns that the flower's beauty is only skin deep.

Purple loosestrife is one of the few wetlands plants that offers no food whatever for waterfowl. Moreover, it is a vigorous plant that crowds out its food-producing neighbors. Labeling it "a pernicious weed," the society has advised wetlands owners to yank it out by the roots.

Name Origin

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Tiny Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco Bay is the Spanish name for a "good herb" that once grew abundantly there. The Hupa Indians used to weave the sweet-smelling herb into their hair.

Watts Residents Fear Investigators—Brown

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some residents of the riot-torn Watts area are reluctant to testify before the McCone Commission, fearing the commission has ulterior motives, according to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Brown appeared before the commission yesterday in a closed-door session, emerging to say the commission is having difficulty getting the information it needs from Watts residents.

"I was informed that there is some suspicion on the part of residents that the commission has an ulterior motive," Brown said.

"This is not true. They need help from the citizens of Watts."

Brown said the commission, headed by former Central Intelligence Agency director John A. McCone, is not a police agency, but "a fact-finding agency."

"I hope everybody who has any information to give will give it. Their information will be kept confidential," Brown declared.

The governor also said the mobilization of the National Guard on Aug. 14 was the fastest such mobilization in U.S. history.

"After all, you don't have riots every day," referring to the 10-hour period it took to get the guardsmen on duty.

"The National Guard isn't like a fire department — you can't ring a bell to get them. But I believe this was the fastest mobilization ever in any state of the union," the governor said.

At a second investigation, an inquest into the deaths of persons killed in the week of rioting, a Negro witness said he heard a police officer ask a fellow officer:

"How many niggers did you kill?"

The witness, Lawrence Jacques, gave this account:

He was in a parked car at an intersection in the riot area on Aug. 14, when two officers drove up, leaped from their car and started shooting.

Leon Cauley, 31, and Miller C. Burroughs, 28, both of Los Angeles, were fatally wounded.

An officer warned Jacques and a companion not to run away.

Said Jacques: "I have no reason to run." Officers searched the pair and ordered them to lie face-down on the ground.

A third officer walked over, Jacques testified, and asked the policemen: "How many niggers did you kill?"

"We got two of them," the policeman answered.

"Why didn't you shoot these two?" the officer asked, indicating the prostrate suspects.

At this, one of the policemen bent down and shoved his shotgun against Jacques' ear and said: "Nigger, how fast can you run the 50-yard dash?"

"Man, I can't run," was Jacques' reply.

The officers involved testified they caught Cauley and Burroughs looting and the coroner's jury ruled the deaths justifiable homicide. Similar verdicts were returned in four previous inquests.

'Outside' Looks 'Inside' At Quentin Trade Fair

Inside workshops of San Quentin Prison rarely seen by the public were "open house" yesterday to 550 invited guests from business, labor and industry attending the second annual prison trade fair.

The fair was held as a shop window for the prison's vocational program which trains convicts in trades and occupations while they are under sentence.

Guests saw state-owned automobiles being repaired; the printing of the prison newspapers and state business forms; the laundering of inmates' clothes in the prison laundery and work being performed in a dozen other workshops.

French pasteries were sampled in the prison bakery and cows from the prison's dairy herd were on display.

Only 350 prisoners have been selected from the prison population of 3,600 to take part in the vocational program which is a certified program leading to the awarding of journeyman cerificates.

Filter Gadget Will Save $1,900

MOSES LAKE, Wash. (UPI)— An inexpensive gadget to clean oil filters on multi-million-dollar KC135 jet tankers and B52 jet bombers will save an estimated $1,900 during the current fiscal year at Larson Air Force Base.

The device developed by S/Sgt. David Lewis reduces the time for cleaning the filters by at least two-thirds, according to Larson officials. Over a six-month period, 90 man-hours are saved. Lewis won $45 from the Air Force for his idea.

New Hampshire Small Claims Cases Fewer

CONCORD, N. H. (UPI) — It apparently costs too much these days to go to small claims court in New Hampshire.

The state Judicial Council reported a 12 per cent drop in small claims cases over the past decade.

Pickets Continue To Hamper Cape

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Striking missile mechanics turned away hundreds of space construction workers for the second day today, crippling key moonport building for the eighth time in 20 months.

The building tradesmen were honoring picket lines set up by Boeing Co. missilemen, members of the International Association of Machinists (AFL-CIO), despite pleas from their union leaders to return to work.

A spokesman for the Army Corps of Engineers reported that about 1,800 of 3,600 construction workers were off the job.

Purple Crackle Live-o-tek? Yes, That's A Dance With Live Band

"Adult music," no topless performers and occasional big name bands: This is the ambitious program for Saturday night entertainment in the North Bay to be offered in Petaluma at the Purple Crackle Live-o-tek, starting Oct. 2.

This is in the new Home Art Pavilion in the Sonoma fairgrounds at 400 Payran Street, where Ray Wilson and Julian Porritt have joined up to bring back "the pure pleasure of dancing as it used to be enjoyed." Julian is the regularly featured house band leader on Saturday nights from 9 to 1. The pavilion offers about 1,000 square feet for his 19-piece orchestra and the dancers.

He is from Santa Rosa and is well known around the Bay Area for his tuba playing. He's made the circuit of the theaters, Monterey Jazz Festival, Earthquake McGoon's, the circus, San Francisco Ballet Orchestra, Del Courtney's orchestra and other places too numerous to list here. As an orchestra leader, he believes in "melody for dancing," so chooses melodic tunes—and keeps them recognizable.

His selections, he says, are generally "the bottom 40 instead of the top 40," although on request he's willing to oblige with an occasional rendition of 1965 dance music. Incidentally, Paul Miller, Terra Linda banjoist and guitarist, is featured in his orchestra. During intermissions, he has Alice Blue at the piano playing old-time rag and blues tunes.

Once a month the Purple Crackle will feature big name bands. Duke Ellington and his orchestra are already booked for Oct. 27. That's on a Wednesday night, and it's likely other name bands will be there on week nights instead of Saturdays. Possibilities for November and December are Stan Kenton and Russ Morgan.

No meals served, but there's a sandwich bar, and cocktails are served. Price is $1.50 per person for admittance — $2.50 when the big-timers perform.

LOU SABELLA reports that people who like to eat lobsters (and who doesn't, if they're prepared right?) will find them at Sabella's in Marin, freshly caught when the season starts around the middle of October.

Fresh little neck clams from Bremerton, Wash., are on the Sabella's menu from Oct. 1 to 7. Both shellfish are served the year 'round, but are flown in from the East Coast when ours are out of season.

SAM'S IN TIBURON got some extra publicity last Saturday, along with free entertainment for its customers—and a good crowd of extra customers — when Capt. Jim Nelson of Los Altos sailed his yacht Friendship III up to Sam's dock at midday.

Passengers aboard included the Grimlins, a rock and roll band which proceeded to give the waterfront a concert that lasted all afternoon and evening. Since the Grimlins were only practicing, how could they charge for this service?

ALSO IN TIBURON, ground has been broken for the new Tiburon Lodge. According to Ben Farlatti, this should be ready to open not too long after the first of the year. Banquet facilities won't be quite as large as those at the Lodge in Novato, which Ben and his associates own, and the food operation will be on the order of a deluxe coffee shop.

Meanwhile, Farlatti et al have opened the Brigadoon Lodge in Vacaville next to the Nut Tree Inn. They operate the motel themselves but have leased out the food and beverage departments.

AND GROUND WAS broken this morning in a new section of the Novato - Fair Shopping Center, where Sizzler's Steak House is to be located, along with other retail businesses. It will be a little while before this is ready to open — probably after Jan. 1.

Sizzler's, Inc., is headquartered in Culver City. Other branches are being opened in Northern California.

I RECEIVED A NOTE from Martha Carmack, who used to play at Pandora in San Anselmo when it first opened, that she and her dulcimer are now featured Friday and Saturday nights at An Siobin (The Irish Pub), 633 Battery Street, San Francisco. First show begins at 8:30 p.m.

Many Marinites remember Martha, and frequently I am asked about her. Now you know where she and her gossamer tunes can be found.

AND SPEAKING of the Pandora, its successor, Chez Dumont, is having an autumn style show tonight in the dining room between 7 and 8. Models will be local as well as from out of town.

"Happy Hour" in the cocktail lounge from 6 to 7; the fashion show is right after that, then dinner from 8 p.m. Roving photographer Richard McVey will be there to take camera shots.

PAUL AND RENEE DE VAUX of La Petite Auberge are spending their vacation this year, or part of it, in Hawaii—far from the Rue de la Paix and Riviera where you might think they'd wander. Last I heard, they were enjoying life under a palm tree in Kauai.

MR. K, downtown San Rafael restaurant, has a new line of deluxe sandwiches you might enjoy: Corned beef, pastrami, salami and other meats, served on bagel, Kaiser rolls, wheat, rye, pumpernickel or kosher roll.

Breakfasts, too, have taken an interesting turn — with lox and eggs, pastrami and eggs and a few other egg styles you don't often find.

Breakfasts from 6 a.m. Open until midnight Mondays through Thursdays and to 3 a.m. Friday and Saturday nights.

THROUGHOUT OCTOBER, the paintings of Gen. Tang Tzu-Chang will be displayed at Peacock Gap Country Club. The general is a resident of San Rafael, which he says reminds him of his home town Huchow. He is a writer and lecturer as well as painter. His paintings have been frequently exhibited at universities and galleries in Washington, New York, London and Paris over the past 15 years.

LOU BUECHER, who has been away playing in golf tournaments in Reno, returns to his San Rafael cocktail lounge, The Cellars, this weekend — where Dick Saltzman and his orchestra play for dancing.

BOO-BOO STIRS INTEREST. I made a mistake last week and listed Ernie Van Asperen as part owner of the Atherton Club in Novato, along with his credits for the Dock and Dolphin in Tiburon and the Gold Street in San Francisco. He is part owner of an Atherton Club, I understand—but not that one.

Douglas Hertz of the Novato Atherton Club set me straight on this — but added that he has a first-class dining room—and if Ernie wants to take this over in addition to his other interests, he's got a deal.

Marin Dining And Wining

Novato Lions Set New Fund Effort

A new type of fund raising campaign has been launched by the Novato Lions Club to support its sight conservation work for the blind and its youth activities, said John Benzon, chairman of the sight conservation committee of the club.

The club will mail to all residents sheets of seals entitled "Be thankful you can see." Payment for the seals will be used for work by the local club, Benzon said. The seals campaign will replace white cane day.

Second Sight Singing Course Scheduled

A second section of the College of Marin course in sight singing and ear training has been scheduled for Thursdays, from 7:30 to 9:30 in Room G-2 of the college's physical education complex.

The course, designed for singers, music directors and teachers, is also being given on Mondays. Instructor is Wynn Westover. Registration for both sections will be held in class through Thursday.

Bolinas District Prepares To Annex

Bolinas Public Utility District directors Wednesday night introduced an ordinance declaring intention to annex to the district about 12 acres near Mesa Road, and set a hearing on the annexation for 7:30 p.m., Nov. 5, at the district office.

The district's engineers will make a survey to propose types of mains and give estimates, Commissioner James Dougan said.

Novato Horse Auction Slated

Two descendants of the famous Man o' War are among horses to be auctioned off Oct. 17 at Atherton Stables, Olive and Atherton avenues, Novato.

Estimates Sought

Almonte Improvement Club directors Wednesday night called for estimates on improveing the restrooms in the clubhouse. Acting president Ronald N. Burnett told board members of his visit to Synanon House at Marshall and encouraged members to visit the center.

Two County Planner Sessions Set

The Marin County Planning Commission will meet twice next week, on Monday and Wednesday.

The Wednesday session, beginning at 2 p.m. at the Civic Center, will be another hearing on the controversial Marincello master plan.

The Monday session, beginning at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center, will have an agenda of at least 16 items.

Item five is a use permit asked by Butte Gas and Oil Co. to allow mining for mercury on the Gamonini Ranch about eight miles from Marshall on the Marshall-Petaluma Road in northwest Marin.

Number 12 is a 24-acre subdivision proposed by Roberts and Aguirre at the west end of Center Road in Rancho Novato. Roberts and Aguirre seek approval of the tentative map for the tract, to be known as Pleasant Valley No. 5.

Reservist Attends School For Officers

Pfc. Alva B. Wooley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wooley of 320 Melrose Avenue, Mill Valley, is attending the Artillery Officers Candidate School at Fort Sill, Okla.

A reservist member of the NCO Academy, 363rd Regiment, at the Presidio in San Francisco, Wooley was the first reservist to be selected for the Active Army OCS since the regiment was organized in 1958.

Planners Favor Three Sausalito Subdivisions

Sausalito planning commissioners Wednesday night recommended approval of three subdivisions for Sausalito Del Mar Associates.

One subdivision in the Woodward Avenue-Marie Street area is from two lots to three to build one duplex and two single family homes. A second is from one parcel to four to allow four duplexes between Cazneau Avenue and Filbert Street.

Commissioners recommended approval of a subdivision on Marie Street to allow 10 homes but also recommended that Marie Street remain a cul de sac and not be cut through to Woodward Avenue, Commissioner Roy Starbird reported.

Two other subdivision applications from the same company were continued to next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at City Hall.

An appeal by Barney West from denial of building and zoning permits for a proposed building at Tiki Junction, Bridgeway and Mono Street, was continued to Oct. 6 on West's request.

Alan D. Bonapart acted as chairman. Chairman Robert L. Nissen is recovering at Ross Hospital from an operation on his back. He is reported in good condition and expected home this week end.

Youth Orchestra To Begin Rehearsals

The Marin Youth Orchestra, directed by Hugo Rinaldi, will start rehearsals Monday at 4 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael.

Mrs. Herbert P. Brann, youth orchestra chairman for the sponsoring Symphony Guild of Marin, says that special rehearsals may be required since the orchestra has been invited by the San Francisco Symphony Foundation to play at the kick-off for its annual fund raising campaign at noon on Oct. 4 in Union Square, San Francisco.

LBJ Cracks The Whip On Publicity Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's aides have passed the word to the administration's corps of public relations men: If there's something to be announced, let the White House know about it first.

The result, a check of Cabinet agencies showed today, is a steady flow of proposed or prepared news releases for appraisal at the White House.

"We want first refusal on anything that should appropriately come from here," one White House assistant said.

But at the same time, he said the White House probably will exercise more selectivity in choosing what will be returned to the executive agencies for release there.

The stream of agency news releases to and through the White House apparently picked up after an August conference which brought agency public affairs officers to the office of Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary.

At another point, people who were on hand reported, he lectured the public affairs men, demanding a better written flow of announcements about the administration.

He was quoted as saying if that did not come about, he would enlist some high school seniors from Johnson City, Tex., and count on them to do the job.

At the Pentagon, information office men joke about what some of them have come to call the Pedernales press service.

Pedernales is the name of the river that flows through Johnson's LBJ Ranch in Texas. And when he is there, the stream of White House announcements reaches a peak.

It is a practice that has been followed by presidential press officers for years. Pierre Salinger did it for John F. Kennedy at Hyannis Port, Mass., James C. Hagerty did the same for Dwight D. Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga.

The stream of press releases gives the impression of business as usual, or more than usual, during a presidential weekend off.

One Cabinet agency press officer pointed to that background in discussing the topic. But he added that his agency is sending more information for release at the White House than ever before.

He said a White House announcement often attracts more attention than would one issued by the agency involved. A White House official said the same thing.

But another press officer disagreed. He said the increased flow of releases from the White House has kept information out of the hands of specialists covering his agency.

Some major news-producing agencies, among them the Departments of Agriculture, Interior, Commerce and Health, Education and Welfare, send regular weekly summaries of potential news releases to the White House press office.

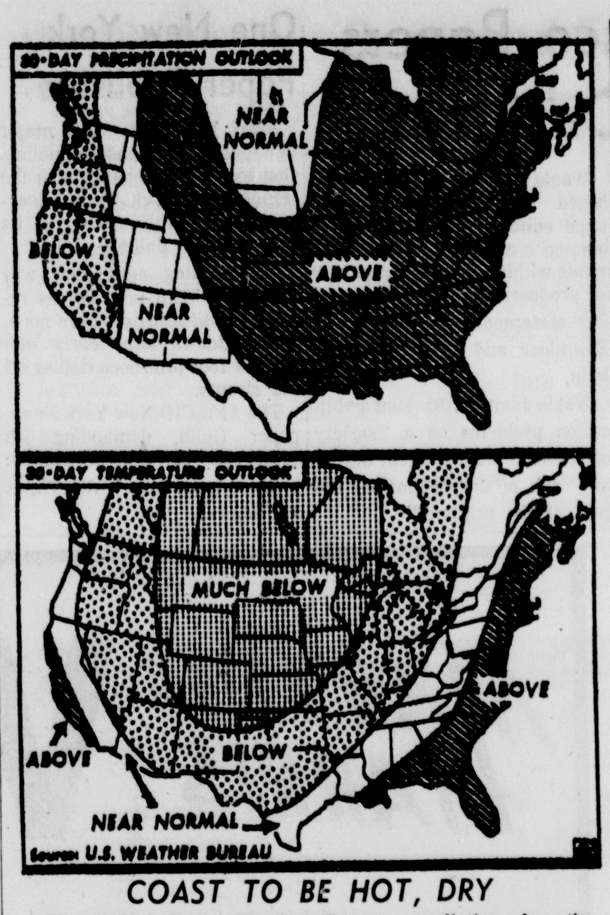
The reports are screened there, and the announcements that will come from Moyers, in the name of the White House or of Johnson himself, are chosen. Others are returned for release by the departments.

Other agencies report they keep the White House informed of their newsmaking potential on a less formal basis.

One agency's information man said Johnson has relayed word that he does not want to wake up in the morning and read in a newspaper an announcement or report he had not heard first at the White House.

The harvest from this effort reached a peak during Johnson's Labor Day weekend in Texas. The score: 42 news releases in four days.

One batch was so heavy that White House aides had to wheel it into the press room on a baggage cart.



COAST TO BE HOT, DRY

The United States Weather Bureau prediction for the nation's weather outlook through mid-October indicates that the Bay Aear and most of the West Coast can expect temperatures to continue higher than normal but with less than the usual amount of rain. Apparently, the Coast's rain will swell the above-normal precipitation expected for almost the entire nation east of the Rockies, which may be accompanied by below-normal temperatures throughout the northern plains states. Bank Manager Taken Hostage

SAN BRUNO (UPI)—A bandit used a bank manager as a shield yesterday to escape from officers who caught him during a holdup.

Police said Officer Fred Gillen arrived at the Crocker-Citizens Bank shortly after the bank alarm sounded. He said a masked man used bank manager Joseph Davis as a shield and backed out of the building. The robber fired one shot at Gillen, narrowly missing him.

Davis was released unharmed in Daly City.

The bandit dropped the loot he had taken but police could give no estimate of the amount. His stolen getaway car was found several blocks from where he let Davis out.

Worst September Storm In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A late summer snowstorm, with winter's bitter elements of blowing and drifting snow, cold, ice and blustery winds, diminished across wide areas in the northern and central Rockies and adjacent Plains states today.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said that snow tapered off in most areas, except in some mountain sections, during the early morning. Strong winds continued in the storm belt and in most other western sections of the nation. But forecasters said the worst of the wintry weather appeared ended. Clear skies were reported in Montana for the first time in a week.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was one of the worst in history for September. The wintry blasts struck in the fading days of summer and temperatures in the teens in some areas were in contrast to record breaking heat in the southern Plains and south central states. The summer season ends at 1:06 a.m. EST Sept. 23.

The storm pounded areas in Montana, Wyoming, the Dakotas and Nebraska. Strong winds swept through the warm air across the southern Rockies and into a rain belt in Midwest areas.

Snow piled up to 18 inches in the Whitefish, Mont., area near the Canadian border. The snow blanket measured 15 inches at Crawford, in western Nebraska, a record snowfall for the state in September.

At least five persons were killed in traffic accidents, three in Montana and two in Wyoming, on ice-covered highways.

Blowing snow caused four-foot drifts in central Montana. The Trail Ridge Highway, the world's highest continuous motor vehicle route in the Rocky Mountain National Park 80 miles northwest of Denver, was closed by drifting and ice glaze.

Sleepy Hollow Approves Plans For New Gates

A design by architect Edward Hageman was selected last night for gates to be placed on both sides of Butterfield Road at the entrance to Sleepy Hollow.

A committee headed by Robert Duffield of 160 Legend Road received several suggested designs and recommended that by Hageman, which was approved by Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. directors. On each side of the road will be a structure of heavy redwood logs topped by a cross-board lettered "Sleepy Hollow." Work on erecting the gates is to start at once.

Directors again discussed hiring a private patrol to augment sheriff's office protection in Sleepy Hollow, but reached no decision.

A "mystery trip" for members was announced for Saturday, Sept. 25.

Officers found the other Cadillac was registered to Grace C. Nash of 203 California Avenue. Mrs. Nash was asked to check her license number. She checked, then apparently sheepishly, drove the Wiley car back to the shopping center at Miller and Evergreen avenues and traded back

Army Plans Camps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army today announced plans to open new basic training centers at Ft. Benning, Ga., and Ft. Bliss, Tex., to help handle an expected total of 408,000 recruits for the year ending next July 1.

State Demos Draw Battle Strategy Against Reagan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California Democrats put on a unity cloak today for a weekend party meeting and drew the battle lines for a 1966 Gov. Brown—Ronald Reagan governorship fight.

Neither Democrat Brown nor Republican Reagan has announced his candidacy. But that didn't stop Democratic party leaders from opening fire on the actor who is expected to seek the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

With officials heading to San Francisco tomorrow for a meeting of the Democrat State Central Committee's executive committee, these were the developments:

1. The man scheduled to become the new Democratic state chairman, Robert L. Coates, attacked Reagan as a "right wing candidate." He also promised to call a unity meeting of feuding Democratic factions to plan for next year's campaign.

2. Finance Director Hale Champion flatly predicted a Brown-Reagan contest and said it "will have a marked resemblance to the 1964 presidential race between Johnson and Goldwater, not excluding the strange phenomena of back lash and frontlash."

Coates, in an interview, predicted that battling Democrats will "very handily unite in a common cause" in the face of a campaign against Reagan.

Like Champion, Coates had no doubt Brown will try for a third term.

He is expected to be chosen successor to State Chairman Roger Kent of Kentfield, a veteran party leader who has been close to Brown — but who is disliked by Democrats friendly to Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles.

San Francisco Papers Cut Down On Sizes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Executives charged with the new task of printing both San Francisco newspapers in one plant say they considered closing the dailies until production difficulties are ironed out.

But they told a news conference yesterday they won't unless they have to.

The new printing pattern became effective last Monday when the morning Examiner became an afternoon newspaper and a joint production company took over the job of printing both the Examiner and the morning Chronicle in the Chronicle's plant. The Examiner merced with the News Call Bulletin, another Hearst paper already printing afternoons.

Mechanical problems arose which caused delay in printing and delivery of the Chronicle and the Examiner.

To help solve the problems, the production company, the San Francisco Newspaper Printing Co., asked publishers of the Chronicle and the Examiner to restrict the size of their newspapers during the organization period.

Wells B. Smith, president of the printing company, told the news conference both newspapers probably would be limited to 32 pages until production is smoothed.

The joint Sunday Examiner and Chronicle will be incomplete at the start of production, Smith said.

Smith and Lyle A. Johnson, executive vice president of the printing company, blamed what they called a dissident group of 10 per cent of the newspapers' printers for printing and delivery delays.

Their news conference followed announcement by Russell A. Wagle, president of AFL-CIO Typographical Union No. 21, that the printers' union would file a $5 million libel suit against the Chronicle and probably a similar suit against the Hearst Corp.

Wagle said the suit would be based on a Chronicle front page editorial yesterday which blamed "certain dissident elements within the printers' union" for production difficulties. A similar statement appeared in the Examiner and News Call Bulletin.

Wagle blamed the joint publication problems on a "variety of reasons, none of them due to any lack of cooperation on the part of the printers."

One New York Paper Publishes

NEW YORK (AP) — Six major newspapers suspended publication today in sympathy with the struck New York Times, leaving the city with only one of its metropolitan dailies.

No morning newspaper was published. With negotiations recessed until shortly before noon, the shutdown kept early editions of four afternoon dailies off the streets.

The AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild, demanding job protection against automation and mergers, struck the Times Thursday.

Johnson Begins Education Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has put a task force to work on his proposed drive to promote education in developing nations.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk heads the group.

Announcing his plan in a speech yesterday, Johnson said he would present details of his proposed program to Congress next January.

Typhoon, Earthquake Both Visit Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Trix, described as this year's most powerful storm, slammed into central Honshu tonight with howling 111-m.p.h. winds and heavy rains.

As the typhoon moved toward Tokyo, a light earthquake shook parts of central and northern Japan. No casualties or damage were reported.

NEW CALIFORNIA LAWN FOOD

Grows greener, healthier grass

—that you fertilize in minutes!

We got the top agronomists in the State to come up with a formula for a lawn food to suit the climate, soils and overall growing conditions of California. They gave us their recommendations and we created the product: new ORTHO-GRO Lawn Food.

Then we went even further and produced the handiest, easiest way to spread fertilizer yet: the ORTHO WHIRLYBIRD Spreader! Together, the combination can't be beat. Examine the facts: ORTHO-GRO Lawn Food matches agronomist recommendations—item by item:

4% Phosphate—develops strong, healthy roots.
4% Potash—for vigorous growth, vitality.
2% Iron—forms chlorophyll, prevents yellowing.

FASTEST DISSOLVING FERTILIZER YET—NOT A PELLET WASTED

Sprinkle ORTHO-GRO pellets on a moistened blotter and watch them soak in. Other fertilizers don't go to work half so fast. They fail to permeate your lawn, could even wind up in your mower's grass-catcher before they ever got a chance to be effective. ORTHO-GRO dissolves immediately, speeds vital plant nutrients right to the roots.

EASY TO HANDLE, PROTECTED TO STAY FRESH ALL SEASON LONG

ORTHO-GRO is packaged neat and flat...stores away without sprawling all over. An inner polyethylene package keeps pellets fresh the year round.

Old way

WHIRLYBIRD way

IT'S ACTUALLY FUN: NEW WHIRLYBIRD SPREADER FEEDS YOUR LAWN IN MINUTES!

Just fill the hopper and turn the handle as you stroll across your lawn. WHIRLYBIRD spreads an 8- to 10-ft. swath as you go. Does away with pushing the old two-wheel spreader. With WHIRLYBIRD you follow the professional greenskeeper's example: fertilize light and often so you get steady uniform growth—no feast or famine.

WHIRLYBIRD covers 5,000 sq.ft. of lawn in ten to twelve minutes—even if you're a slow walker! Stores easily—takes up less space than a gallon of paint. Made of Chevron® Polypropylene—won't rust or corrode.

WHIRLYBIRD Fertilizer Spreader $5.95
ORTHO-GRO Lawn Food ..... 10,000 sq. ft. $7.95 ..... 5,000 sq. ft. $4.49

Crackdown Urged On Kashmir War

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary - General U Thant today proposed that the U.N. Security Council issue a binding order for a cease-fire between India and Pakistan and that it request heads of the two governments to hold peace talks in a third country.

The action proposed by the secretary-general would invoke the penalty provisions of the U.N. Charter by formally declaring that a breach of peace exists. He did not suggest any immediate application of sanctions, however.

Thant delivered his personal report to the 11-nation council 24 hours after his return from an unsuccessful effort to halt the fighting.

Thant acknowledged that he had been unable to get agreement of India's Prime Minister Bahadur Lal Shastri and Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan for a cease-fire and declared that the situation was so grave it threatens world peace.

Thant outlined a five-point approach which the council might now take:

Issue a binding order for a cessation of hostilities, declaring that if either party fails to comply, the penalty provisions of the charter would come into effect. This would bring into play the rarely used Chapter 7 which applies only when the council formally recognizes the existence of a breach of peace.

Request the heads of the two governments to meet in a country friendly and acceptable to both, and make available a small committee to assist in the talks.

Make possible use of the secretary-general in the negotiations.

Two Drivers Draw Fines

A man and woman were sentenced for drunken driving by Judge Peter Allen Smith in Marin Municipal Court. The man got a five-day jail sentence and $275 fine. The woman received a suspended $166 fine but was placed on supervised probation for a year.

Frederick R. Van Peer, 55, of Inverness was arrested Aug. 17 in Point Reyes Station. He admitted a prior conviction, and therefore was given the jail term.

Alice Marie Zurlinden, 40, of Bolinas was arrested June 21 after an accident at Bolinas-Olema Road and Mesa Road.

Depressed Freeway Raises Tempers In W. Los Angeles

"Good grief, not a freeway!"

But the lament is fruitless. A new freeway will be built in Beverly Hills, insist state officials.

But, Beverly Hills citizens insist, only that they want to bury it.

And, from the almost as perfectly manicured suburb of West Los Angeles next door, comes the bleat: "Apparently we will have a depressed freeway and elevated people in Beverly Hills and depressed people and an elongated freeway in West Los Angeles.

"The recommended route seems to be a product of Beverly Hills and its consultants," said Vinson Brice, representing the West Los Angeles Improvement Assn.

Beverly Hills people asked for and won a recommendation that the 9.3- mile route be depressed —perhaps as much as 20 feet below surrounding terrain — as it passes along Santa Monica Boulevard through the heart of Beverly Hills and then west through West Los Angeles, where it would rise above ground. They also asked that no on-and-off ramps be built in Beverly Hills.

Cost of the project? $225 million. It's the most expensive freeway to be built here.

The State Highway Commission found out yesterday just how deep feelings run. Hundreds of spectators jammed a hotel ballroom for a hearing on the proposed route.

Most were West Los Angeles residents, who booed and cheered as the proceedings continued.

Best target for boos was Leonard Horwin, Beverly Hills city councilman, who said his city has asked for no special favors.

Opponents of the Beverly Hills plan want the route moved north to Sunset Boulevard which, to Beverly Hills denizens, seems even more ghastly. Seems some of the best homes in town are up there.

The hearings will continue. It'll be at least eight years before the superhighway is built.

Anti-Viet Nam Drive Planned

A letter writing campaign, protesting United States involvement in Viet Nam, will be launched this evening at SNCC (Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee) headquarters at the Sausalito heliport.

The 7 p.m. public meeting is sponsored by the Marin Viet Nam Committee.

Indian Defies Peking Threat Over Border

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told Communist China today it would fight if the Chinese invaded India. The whole world expressed anxiety that Peking's 72-hour ultimatum could explode into a new war.

Shastri rejected as baseless Peking's charges that Indian troops and planes had been intruding into China's territory but he agreed to a joint investigation of disputed border regions "in order not to give the Chinese an excuse for an attack on India."

Shastri spoke to parliament after a series of emergency cabinet meetings to consider Peking's demand that India withdraw its troops from disputed border areas within three days or face the grave consequences—a strong implication the Chinese would attack.

India reported its troops and tanks were moving steadily on the West Pakistan city of Lahore, Pakistan's second largest with a population of about one million. Artillery duels were reported on the city's outskirts.

The Indian Defense Ministry said most of the Pakistani defenders had fallen back behind the Icchogil Canal, six miles from the city and dug in to halt any Indian armored advance. India claimed its troops were across the canal and within four or five miles of Lahore.

President Signs Base Funds Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law yesterday a bill in which Congress loosened the ties it once tried to put on military base closings.

This was Congress' second authorization this session of $1.78 billion for military construction.

Johnson vetoed the bill and Congress rewrote it to require only 30 days' notice.

Birch Society Opens Office In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The John Birch Society opened a Washington office today with a charge that President Johnson was giving aid and comfort to the Communists.

Reed Benson, Washington representative of the society, suggested that sending wheat to the Soviet Union and U.S. financing of a steel mill in Communist Poland amounted to treason.

During an exchange with reporters, Benson stopped short of calling Johnson a traitor. But he said the President was leading the nation down the road to "insolvency, surrender and socialism."

A reporter asked Benson if he thought Johnson had committed treasonable acts and he replied in part: "The Constitution defines treason as giving aid and comfort to the enemy. What do you call it? I believe we are giving aid and comfort to the enemy. Unfortunately, treason has been prospering and none dare call it treason."

Benson said if anyone advocated sending wheat to Hitler during World War II or building steel mills for Nazi Germany, he would have been labeled a traitor at the time.

"Today we are fighting an enemy that makes Hitler look like peanuts," he said.

Rumania Publishes Marx Book —Another Fissure With Soviets

By LEO HEIMAN
Worldwide Press Service

BUCHAREST (WPS) — New evidence of cracks in the facade of Soviet-Rumanian "solidarity" have been revealed by the recent publication here of Karl Marx's "Remarks on Rumania."

Foreign observers as well as Rumanians are waiting to see whether it will produce any greater repercussions in the Kremlin than red faces.

Within a week of its appearance on Bucharest bookstands, the two editions of this slim "book" were sold out. Publication of further editions depends on Moscow's reaction to this trial balloon.

Why shouldn't the Kremlin be delighted that a collection of newspaper articles by the ideological founder of international communism should be published in book form by the Rumanian Academy of Sciences — albeit slightly edited?

Because in these articles, written in the wake of the 19th Century political intrigues and machinations in the Balkan-Danube area, Karl Marx castigates Russia for annexing the Rumanian province of Bessarabia following the Russo-Turkish War of 1812. He also warns the Rumanians that the Russians may gobble them up under the pretext of liberating them from their Turkish yoke.

It is no coincidence that "Remarks on Rumania" appeared in bookshops here on the 21st anniversary of Rumania's "liberation" by Soviet troops during World War II. Diplomatic observers in Bucharest note that nationalist feeling in this country in running high, following persistent rumors that the Russians are deporting Bessarabia's Rumanian inhabitants to Centrail Asia and Siberia.

Even loyal members of Rumania's Communist Party are openly resentful over Moscow's attitude to Bessarabia, which was proclaimed a "constituent republic" (Moldavian SSR) of the Soviet Union in 1941.

Over the past two decades, Bessarabia's Rumanian majority of 3,100,000 compared to 240,000 Ukranians and Russians, has been whittled down to 1.9 million Rumanians vis-a-vis 950,000 Russians and Ukranians.

Taking into account the average birth rate for the two decades before 1941, it is estimated that there ought to have been over four million Rumanians in Bessarabia in 1965. Instead, the Soviet policy of deportations, banishments, planned resettlement and voluntary migration to "virgin lands" has resulted in a 50 per cent decline of Bessarabia's Rumanian population, and a corresponding 400 per cent growth of Russian and Ukranian settlers.

To present-day Rumanians this constitutes a triple insult.

As nationalists, they resent the annexation of a Rumanian province by a stronger neighbor, and the dispersal of its population by totalitarian methods. As Communists, they resent Moscow's persistent refusal to honor its avowed princhiple of self-determination and hold a plebiscite in Bessarabia. As Europeans, they resent the the Soviet Union's policy of colonialism at home (Bessarabia) while it champions anti-colonialist causes abroad.

In actual fact, the current rumors of mass deportations of Rumanians from Bessarabia are probably false, according to informed sources, though the effect is the same.

What is happening is a planned population shift eastwards to the trans-Baikal districts of Siberia currently threatened by Red Chinese invasion.

The Rumanian peasants in Bessarabia are being uprooted in two ways, and forced to migrate east to Siberia to bolster the population of the disputed border regions.

For one thing the Supreme Soviet of the Moldavian SSR decided to abolish the system of collective villages and to establish a network of agricultural cities covering an area of eight to 12 villages and hamlets. The ostensible reason was humanitarian. The Soviet authorities said they wanted to provide schools, libraries, hospitals, movies, supermarkets, etc. to the agricultural centers but that this was impossible so long as the farmers lived and worked in small, dispersed units.

Some peasants reasoned that since they had to move from their farms and land anyway, they might as well accept the offer of loans, grants and subsidies to settlers willing to homestead in Siberian border regions.

The second method of making them move east is by denying employment opportunities to young Rumanians who graduate from medical and engineering schools, institutes and colleges. They are offered jobs at good salaries, with apartments, cars, television and other bonuses if they will migrate to Central Asia and Siberia. If they refuse, they end up working as unskilled laborers in Bessarabian fields.

It is estimated that seven out of 10 college graduates prefer to be highly-paid professionals in Siberia than underpaid laborers in Moldavia-Bessarabia. Their families tend to follow them, to share in the benefits in the "promised land."

At the same time, thousands of demobilized Russian soldiers are encouraged to settle in Moldavia-Bessarabia, by the same inducements which prompt the Rumanians to move east.

If this trend continues, the Rumanians will be reduced to an insignificant minority in the Moldavian SSR, Bucharest sources predict.

Miners Trapped In Gold Diggings

GERMISTON, South Africa (AP)—Twelve gold miners were reported trapped today more than 5,000 feet underground in the world's deepest gold mine, near Germiston.

About the time of the collapse a severe earth tremor shook the area in which the mine is situated. It was not clear whether the two were related. But a South African observatory spokesman said the quake was measured as "very, very strong."

Mine owners said the 12 men —three whites and nine Africans—were missing after a collapse of rock in one of the shafts of the East Rand Prprietary mine.

The mining company said rescue operations were in progress.

Legislature Is Formally Called To Work

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown today formally summoned the California Legislature to a special session Monday to act on reapportionment, medicare and a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

"It is imperative that action in all three areas be taken now," the governor said in the proclamation calling the second special session of the year.

The State Supreme Court had ordered both houses of the legislature to reapportion by Dec. 9 to meet the "one man, one vote" test of the U.S. Supreme Court.

The lawmakers also will consider state legislation to join the federal program of medical care for the elderly and poor.

The final subject will be a proposal to ratify the presidential succession amendment to the federal constitution.

Brown warned the lawmakers, who deadlocked at the regular session on Senate reapportionment, that they must act or let the courts realign the districts.

Of medicare, he said that a failure to act could cost the state $6.5 million in federal aid.

Even as he called the special session, however, Brown was engaged in one last try to get the supreme court to reconsider the reapportionment decision.

Little Girl Can't Remember New Home, Hikes To Old

She skipped and jumped and ran and dawdled all the way from San Rafael to San Anselmo because she couldn't remember what her new home looked like.

It happened on Wednesday when Susan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steen Schellenberg, moved from their home on Melville Avenue, San Anselmo, to 98 Graceland Drive, San Rafael.

Susan was brought home from Coleman School at the usual time with an older friend and left a few doors away from the new home. Yes, said Susan, she could find her own way from there.

Her father said today: "Left on her own she seems to have been confused and unable to recognize her new house. So she turned around and walked all of seven miles back to San Anselmo."

The Methodist Church of San Rafael was dedicated on Feb. 18,1870, and was first located on Fifth Avenue between A and B streets.

Boats Collide, Woman Rescued

Coast Guardsmen fished Mrs. Jacqueline Pym of San Francisco out of the bay at 8:16 p.m. yesterday after Mrs. Pym sailed her 30-foot boat into the Coast Guard patrol boat, Cape Hedge, off Sausalito.

The impact knocked the fully-clothed Mrs. Pym into the water.

Mrs. Pym, sailing alone, was uninjured, as were both boats. She was blanketed by her rescuers, taken to the Sausalito police station where a friend met her and took her home. The collision was in the area of Shelter Cove and Yellow Point.

Lynch Asks Pay Video Vote Backing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch has asked the State Supreme Court to uphold last year's voter approval of a ballot proposition outlawing pay television in California.

The state brief, filed Wednesday, declares that a Sacramento Superior Court decision overturning the vote is "without merit."

Prop. 15, approved by a 2-1 margin said that "the development of any subscription television business would be contrary to the public policy of the state."

Sylvester L. Weaver, president of Subscription Television, Inc., appealed the vote and Sacramento County Superior Court Judge Irving H. Perluss upheld him, stating:

"Invention and progress may not and should not be so restricted at least when they are cloaked with the immunity of fundamental freedoms."

Lynch said the act was "a valid exercise of the (state) police power which is not violative of the due process, free speech power or equal protection guarantees of the federal or state constitutions."

Russia has about 400 submarines, it's believed. This is about the same number maintained for a number of years. However, some newer ones are capable of longer voyages and some are undoubtedly atomic powered.

Prison Aide Explains Slow Alarm For Two Who Fled

A San Quentin Prison official explained today why an all-points alarm after two killers escaped yesterday was issued too late to stop the men crossing the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

"These men had the breaks going for them," said Associate Warden James W. L. Park. "They were able to move fast enough before our escape procedure could be completed."

The two murder partners, Jimmie L. Bushbaum, 29, and Arthur G. Jones, 32, made their escape from the minimum security area after hot-wiring and driving off a car belonging to Prison Capt. Carl G. Hocker.

"At the time of the break—10:50 a.m.—we had about 150 inmates in the normal work detail outside the prison walls and they were spread out over a wide area," said Park.

When prison officers were alerted, the men had to be rounded up and identified before the all-points bulletin could be issued, he said.

Meanwhile the hunt for the two men spread state-wide today.

Park said there had been no report so far of either the men or the getaway car.

After driving off in the stolen car, Bushbaum and Jones paid the 75 cent toll on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge and sped on east.

Officers at the toll point said yesterday they received news of the escape long after the car passed through.

They had been at the prison since 1960 and worked together on maintenance activities outside the walls.

November Draft Set At 36,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department today announced a November draft call of 36,450 men — including the first draftees for the Marine Corps in 13 years.

The November call — the biggest since the Korean War—"is in accordance with the President's recently announced decision to increase the active armed forces strength in connection with Southeast Asia," the Pentagon said.

The Army will get 28,400 men in November, the Marines 4,050 and the Navy 4,000.

Car Sellers Need Smog Certificate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Owners of older cars must have a crankcase smog control device installed if they want to sell their auto.

The Department of Motor Vehicles has issued new rules, effective Wednesday, requiring "certificates of compliance" that prove cars have the device before ownership is changed.

It was formerly necessary only to sign an affidavit.

Mill Valley Chamber Eyes Garbage Rates

Charges that the Mill Valley Refuse Service is billing numerous commercial customers higher rates than is permitted under Mill Valley city ordinance were discussed by chamber of commerce directors Wednesday.

Brown Requests Resignation Of State Demo Spokesman

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Gov. Edmund G. Brown today called upon Simon Casady to resign his post as president of the California Democratic Council because of what the governor described as Casady's "statewide crusade" against President Johnson's Vietnam policies.

The governor dispatched a blunt letter to Casady from his office here, accusing the former El Cajon newspaper publisher of making the "appalling statement that burning a draft card is a display of courage."

The letter was addressed to Casady at Fresno where he is scheduled to preside over a weekend CDC board of directors meeting.

Casady was not available immediately for comment. He left his El Cajon home several days ago to speak at Petaluma and other places in northern California.

Addressing Casady as "Dear Si," the governor wrote:

"I am deeply disturbed by the tenor of the speeches you have been making in California in recent weeks.

"As a private citizen, you certainly have a right to voice your opinion on any subject. As president of the California Democratic Council, however, you have a responsibility to represent the views of your membership on major public issued.

"I am sure the members of the CDC did not intend, by electing you president earlier this year, to launch you on a statewide crusade against President Johnson. I am equally certain that your membership does not accept your appalling statement that burning a draft card is a display of courage.

Pay TV's Day In Court Is Vital To Free Enterprise

We were happy to note that the State Supreme Court considered the question of such importance that it decided to hear the case itself instead of referring it to the district court of appeals.

The case results from the passage a year ago of Proposition 15, which outlawed pay television. By a 2 to 1 vote, the people of the state put Subscription Television Inc., which was serving some 25,000 homes in the Los Angeles and San Francisco areas, out of business.

The president of Subscription Television went to court, contending that Proposition 15 discriminates against subscription television in favor of commercial TV and theater pay-TV.

A superior court judge in Sacramento ruled last May that Proposition 15 is contrary to free speech and to the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

The state attorney general appealed, and the case is now before the state Supreme Court.

Subscription Television Inc., in fighting Proposition 15, is in effect fighting for the principle of free enterprise in all fields of endeavor.

Arguments used in the Proposition 15 campaign were catchy and popular: "You don't want to pay to watch television do you? Then vote for Proposition 15!"

This argument, however, painted only a part of the picture. It neglected to point out that pay television, like any other commercial enterprise, merely competes for but does not compel public patronage. In other words, you need not subscribe to pay television if you do not want it.

If pay television can provide superior programs of the type that a segment of the public wants, then it should have the right to produce such programs and offer them to the viewing public.

The choice still lies with each individual, who can either subscribe or refuse to subscribe. To flatly deny commercial enterprises from trying to put them on the open market is to stifle free enterprise.

The majority of voters, in voting to ban pay television, were saying in effect: "We don't want pay television, and so no one else can have it."

Just as publishers have a right to offer newspapers and magazines at a price, in competition with free throwaways and free shopping guides, the vendors of pay television programs have a right to offer paid programs in competition with free TV programs.

DEPRIVED YOUTHS OVERCOME HANDICAPS

Many young people regarded as unemployable can be trained to become "productive, dependable employees," according to an official of Federal Department Stores in Detroit.

This conclusion was based on a special program undertaken by the company to train 16 young Negroes with culturally and economically deprived backgrounds.

At the beginning of the program none of the youths could pass the tests given to new sales employees. Their scores were far below average. But after receiving further schooling in reading, writing and arithmetic under city auspices, the boys were given an intensive on-the-job training by the company.

Within 10 weeks, 14 out of the 16 made good as retail clerks for the store and the remaining two took other jobs.

God will bless you if you take the trouble to help those who suffer privations to be self-reliant rather than become too dependent on others.

"Each one looking not to his own interests but to those of others." (Philippians 2:4)

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

County Again To Provide Talent For Coming Gubernatorial Race

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

MARIN COUNTY ONCE again provides some of the key men in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's drive for re-election.

Roger Kent of Kent Woodlands, longtime Democratic state chairman, steps down from that post to become coordinator of the Northern California campaign for the governor.

Don Bradley of Ross will again manage the statewide drive for Brown, with headquarters in populous Southern California.

FOR REPUBLICANS, the picture is not quite clear but ought to come into sharper focus next week (Sept. 24-26) when the GOP State Central Committee meets at Hilton Hotel in San Francisco. Richard Nixon is scheduled to be the luncheon speaker on the 25th.

By then, U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel will probably have indicated definitely that he will stay out of the California governor's race.

The battle for the Republican nomination for governor will then be between conservative Ronald Reagan on the one hand and moderates George Christopher and Laughlin Waters on the other.

TODAY, the Elections and Reapportionment Committee of the Assembly (William T. Bagley of San Rafael is a member) is meeting in Sacramento as a preliminary to Monday's special session of the Legislature to take up reapportionment.

The forecast is that the special session will convene briefly, then recess for a couple of weeks to give legislators a chance to thrash out the reapportionment problem in committee.

By the first part of October, then, we ought to get a pretty good idea of whether or not the Senate and the Assembly can agree on a reapportionment plan.

BOTH SEN. JOHN F. McCarthy and Assemblyman Bagley resisted reapportionment because it would increase representation in Los Angeles and shift political power to Southern California.

But in the face of court orders to apportion on the basis of population, Southern California cannot be denied.

Marin legislators will now concentrate their attention on "preserving the Redwood Empire"—that is, trying to keep Marin intact with Sonoma and Napa Counties instead of being lumped in with some other county like Solano or a portion of San Francisco.

A SWIM AND luncheon will be held next Tuesday by Marin Federated Republican Women at the home of Mrs. Robert Huber, 245 Tamalpais Avenue, Mill Valley. The pool opens at 11 a.m.

It's quite a ways off yet, but Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been signed up to speak at a $100 per plate dinner on Nov. 3 in the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco. It will be sponsored by the Democratic National Committee and the state committee.

The Western States Democratic Conference, which was cancelled last July because of the death of Adlai Stevenson, has been rescheduled. It will be held in Reno on Oct. 9, with Roger Kent as chairman.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Capital Punishment Held A Crime Curb

Editor, Independent-Journal:

My hat is off and a handshake to the article in your editorial last evening, regarding the effort to repeal the death sentence.

Should all, who are in favor of having such done, have the sad experience of having a wife, daughter, sister or someone dear and near to them, raped, murdered, kidnaped or have the same done to them, would they still be in favor of having the death sentence repealed?

If and when the day should come that the death sentence is so tightened that not one such offender would ever escape the death chamber, this country would see within a comparatively short period of time, the astonishing and rapid vanishing of such horrid crimes and our society would be a much safer place in which to live.

Novato Taxes Up But Services Down

Editor, Independent-Journal:

After arriving home from a brief vacation, it was enlightening to learn that Novato's taxes continue to soar . . . , that the largest share of these taxes was earmarked for education, and that bus service has been severely curtailed for high school students . . .

It was irritating but also interesting to be on the losing end of one of the biggest "runarounds" I've ever experienced. The sweet voice in that office notified me that the school superintendent, a Mr. Bunker, couldn't condescend to discuss the school transportation problem with any lowly taxpayer such as myself. All such matters were only to be handled by a Mr. Avilla, Hamilton AFB, Ext. 2132 . . . After spending the better part of 15 minutes trying to reach this number, it developed that that particular phone extension hadn't answered any calls all afternoon. Very thoughtful for the school superintendent to have all queries referred to an unoccupied office the last three hours of the business day prior to the opening of high school . . .

If these brilliant intellects . . . cannot see their way clear to continue providing a school bus service which has been in existence for some nine years, perhaps they will condescend to allow us taxpayers to subscribe to a system where we, by paying some additional fee, can be provided with bus transportation.

This is progress? Novato type, perhaps. In some communities such action results in upheaval against existing tyranny and/or prejudice.

I wonder if petitions are in order to rectify the situation? I'd be interested in the reactions of other readers of this publication.

Do Nothing Disarmament Talks Keep Channels Open To Russia

BUT IT IS performing a useful service.

When, after a second try in two years, its recess report goes to the U.N. General Assembly shortly, it will be barren of significant progress. No agreement has been reached on anything — except adjournment—and nothing is within sight on either the nonproliferation of nuclear weapons or an underground test ban.

Nevertheless, it is serving a good purpose for these reasons:

It maintains valuable lines of communication between the Soviet and the U.S. which both nations welcome and which go well beyond the propaganda pyrotechnics of Semyon K. Tsarapkin, chief Soviet delegate. Tsarapkin and William C. Foster, head of the U.S. Disarmament Agency, have been having calm and candid discussions which could later bear fruit.

The conference, which has been meeting continuously since late July, keeps the arms-control dialogue going and that's all to the good. Remember, it took years to get the Austrian peace treaty and to produce the limited test ban.

It helps educate the neutral and unaligned nations on the real problems of arms control. This shows up increasingly in the U.N. debates.

At the moment the word here in Geneva is deadlock. That doesn't overstate it. Any headway is blocked because the Soviet Union is using the conference as a handy forum to show the Communist and other nations, which Red China is courting, how rough and tough it is on the West.

Moscow is using it to try to divide the Atlantic allies, to weaken NATO, and to try to block a NATO nuclear force even if it is provided that West Germany shall have no national control of nuclear weapons.

MOSCOW HAS BEEN trying to dictate the nuclear defense of Western Europe under the guise of a nonproliferation treaty. No Western European nation will accept that condition.

Moscow has been saying it will accept no underground test ban that requires inspection. No Western power will accept such a test ban without inspection.

And when the Soviets find that these positions deadlock all progress on arms control, they say blandly, let's have another moratorium. On this point the West has learned its lesson. We had one such moratorium and the Soviets secretly prepared to violate it and did violate it in 1960 with a series of the biggest nuclear tests the world has ever known.

ALL THIS IS why Foster, himself a quiet and direct individual, has told Tsarapkin both officially and privately that the unhedged nonproliferation treaty the U.S. has offered "should allay any Soviet fears if they are genuine. But if, in spite of that, the Soviet Union continues to refuse to discuss a nonproliferation agreement unless all plans for Allied arrangements are dropped, we can only conclude that its objective is merely to use the issue for its own political ends."

This is the present and pervasive Soviet tactic.

Taft-Hartley Filibuster Offers Chance To Air Union Operations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate's Rule 22 which permits filibusters will find absolute justification this month in debate of big labor's demand that the Taft-Hartley Act be amended. This filibuster should be usefully educational.

THE AMENDMENT sought would strike out the Act's section 14-B. This section of the Taft-Hartley Act merely permits states to forbid compulsory unionism. Section 14-B does not require the states to do anything. It is strictly permissive. It permits states sominded to forbid compulsory unionism within their borders.

President Lyndon B. Johnson promised the labor leaders to obtain repeal of 14-B in exchange for labor support in his 1964 election campaign.

Senate Republicans and conservative Democrats will challenge the Great Society on the right-to-work issue of compulsory unionism. Senate Minority Leader Everett McKinley Dirksen promises prolonged educational debate, which is fancy talk for a filibuster.

Dirksen and his friends should explore the evidence that something has gone very sour in the labor movement. The soured element is well hidden so that only the most delicate nostril can detect the odor. But it is there. The odor is strongest in the states of Georgia and North Carolina and around the U. S. Supreme Court where has taken place some preliminary exploration of what goes on under cover of compulsory unionism.

WHAT GOES ON, of course, includes a great deal of politicking with money and manpower. The corrupt practices act forbids union spending in connection with elections to federal office but not much attention is paid to that. The Supreme Court has held, however, that a captive of compulsory unionism cannot be compelled to contribute to politicians or to political causes which he opposes The court held that such a captive member could demand a refund of that part of his union dues as may have been spent for a political cause to which he objected.

Some employees of the Southern Railway and associated lines sued in Georiga courts nearly 15 years ago to prevent their union from spending dues money against their wishes for political projects. There was a similar suit in North Carolina. The Supreme Court held that there must be a refund to the protestants.

THE END RESULT of that was that the unions agreed to release protesting members from compulsory union membership requirements and from any dues liability. In effect, the unions accepted an open shop in preference to telling members and the public what they do with the money collected from their membership.

The background and end result of these two landmark developments are little known to the public. Dirksen and his fellow filibusterers could do worse than put the whole story on the record. What could be the reason that union officials chose to waive the requirements of compulsory unionism? The end may be an invalidation of compulsory unionism.

Reds Snap Up U.S. Soybeans, Tallow

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Obscured by the furore of the stormy wrangle over the sale of wheat to Russia is an ironic fact.

With the official sanction of the Johnson administration (in the form of export licenses by the Commerce Department), U.S. dealers are selling considerable quantities of soybeans and tallow to the Soviet bloc—without anyone raising an outcry or lifting a finger to stop it.

BOTH COMMODITIES are important ingredients to the production of ammunition.

Yet in the first half of this year, more than $20.6 million in tallow and $8.6 million in soybeans were sold to the Communists.

This particular trade is apparently booming, as in both instances the shipments were twice those of 1964. And the outlook is that this increase will be even greater by the end of the year as more sales are in the offing.

Selling U.S. farm commodities to Russia and its satellites is largely in the hands of a "few dealers."

That's the flat charge of Representative Paul Rogers, D-Fla., member of the Commerce Committee and militant crusader against trade with the Reds. He contends a "powerful lobby" is behind the drive for such exports.

"Not only would these few dealers reap profits from the actual sales," says Rogers, "but they have financial interests in foreign-flag shipping companies which would also profit from the removal of the 50 per cent reserve set aside for American shippers.

"NO WONDER the powerful grain lobby wants to not only sell wheat to Russia, but ship it all aboard foreign lines."

Senator Milton Young, from wheat-dominant North Dakota and a ranking Republican member of the Agriculture Committee, caustically asks why wheat is being discriminated against.

"I CAN'T UNDERSTAND why all these protests are being made against selling wheat to the Soviet when there is no impediment on any other farm commodity or most industrial goods," he says. "There are huge sales of industrial goods, and even entire plants, to Rumania and other Communist countries. And there is an ever-increasing trade in soybeans and tallow to these countries.

"Both commodities are far more useful in the manufacture of ammunition than wheat. Tallow is always very much sought after in time of stress or war. And the U.S. is the only surplus soybean producer in the world.

"But we are only one of many surplus wheat-producing nations. The Communists are obtaining all the wheat they want. They can get it because other wheat-producing countries are now increasing their production and sales to the Reds."

THAT WHITE HOUSE announcement of the suspension of military aid to warring India and Pakistan is only part of the story.

Actually, both countries are continuing to get economic aid.

Listed among some 15 items in "The Daily Summary" are authorizations for shipping $1,078,332 of wheat to India, and a $168,808 grant for studying grain diseases in Pakistan.

When Sour On Humanity, Take A Look At Animal Kingdom

SOMETIMES, as you go down life's stony highway, you must admit that people are no damned good. And, in that case, there is nothing to do but turn to the lower animal. This is about the lowers.

F. W. Mosher Jr. of Mill Valley has advised us that there is a Sasualito man who is waging a one-man war on raccoons.

This man, Porter M. Griffith, says Mosher, claims that raccoons are very destructive and should be removed from civilization and taken out into wide open country where their depredations mean little or nothing.

Griffith has trapped 31 raccoons this year on his property and they were taken away by the Marin County Humane Society. Last year he caught 25.

When he phones the Humane Society in San Rafael, Mosher explains, the office inquires: "Is that you again, Davey Crockett?"

ON THE OTHER HAND, our correspondent reports, Herbert Norris, also of Sausalito, feeds raccoons and says they kill off all the snails in his garden.

Mosher reported that on Labor Day morning deputy sheriffs shot a skunk in his back yard which was believed to be rabid. Sandy, the dog, tore around the yard barking for an hour but could not scare away the skunk.

We learn from Marilyn Miller of Sausalito that her Borzoi, Ninotchka, snaps at bees and the other day had to be taken to the veterinarian when her tongue swelled. Mrs. Miller says that she, like her dog, is allergic to bees and that her tongue once swelled up when bitten by a bee. Ninotchka also gets hives.

An Almonte resident we know, Joan Herrell, says she knew cats got cancer but didn't know they had heart conditions until a recent day when she was visiting Tamalpais Pet Hospital.

SUDDENLY a man, holding a cat, leaped up and went outside saying he had to take his pet outside because due to the commotion inside the cat might get a heart attack. Still another person had her cat in the hospital to have the pet's teeth straightened.

Alan Fitzgerald of Mill Valley says he knows two dogs—not his— who if they know he is going for a walk will follow him all the way up Mount Tamalpais. They are Queenie and Red. Sometimes he has to ask their guardians to lock them up if he does not want them to follow. It seems that they like to hike, as Fitzgerald, and also they like Fitzgerald.

We met Lolita the other day at Casserino's fish wharf in Sausalito. She is a parrot who likes to call out: "Lolita" and "Look out" and give piercing whistles. But when she was being trained to say "Fresh Fish" she just laughed and cackled. Probably his trouble with her "S's". Asked what Lolita eats, it's sunflower seeds. It seems that the only pet the Gidleys have who eats fish is their dog, Huckleberry.

Bill and Bea Holloway, erstwhile Sausalitans who rebuilt an old wreck of a boat into a dream on water and took off for Alaska last spring, tell in a copy of their sea log about habits of whales and porpoises. Bea writes: "The whales spout a time or two and then dip over in a curve and flip their tail as they go under for a while. The porpoises do the curve over as they swim by too."

OTHER SWIMMING things the Holloways have run into are flounders, king crab, halibut and icebergs, the latter being undoubtedly the most exciting to meet.

The other day we talked to Art Carpenter in Bolinas and noticing two crosses on a knoll, asked what they were for.

"That's our burial ground," he said, adding that his son, Trip, is in charge of it. "There are two raccoons, two dogs, an unknown number of cats and some birds."

It is the way of life.

Beautification Beat Suddenly Becomes True Romance Chore

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo. — I spent last week in Grand Teton National Park as the only male correspondent covering Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and her daughter Lynda. There were 12 lady reporters on the trip, and it was typical of their sex that not one of them would give me a break.

IT WAS EVERY woman for himself, and we fought tooth and nail for the exclusive story of Mrs. Johnson's attempt to beautify America.

Covering Mrs. Johnson was no problem. We were briefed twice a day by Liz Carpenter, the First Lady's press secretary, and then it was just a question of running to the phone and reporting that Mrs. Johnson took a walk or amongst the pines had lunch by the lake or sat in her cottage gazing out on the Grand Tetons while a fire blazed in the living room fed by logs chopped by Laurance Rockefeller.

But Lynda Bird was another problem because she started dating a boatsman from the Jackson Lake Lodge, and suddenly what had been a simple story about beautification turned into the greatest saga of romance in the White House since Margaret Truman went out with Marvin Braverman.

THE HERO of the romance was Wyoming-born-and-bred Brent Eastman, a 25-year-old medical student at the University of California.

The rule of thumb for reporters covering Lynda is that if she goes out with a fellow once it's a date and if she goes out twice it's a romance. If they see each other three times, you can start writing the engagement story.

I'm probably one of the beautification reporters in the United States, but when it comes to covering a love story I find myself in trouble. So as soon as Lynda's romance became the top news I was at a loss as to what to say.

The women reporters on the trip were typing reams of copy about Lynda and Brent and I kept sitting in front of my machine, sobbing because I had nothing to say.

Finally they took pity on me and said they would help me with the story.

"First, you have to describe Brent," one of them said.

"How do I do that?" I asked.

"Say he's tall, handsome, a bronzed, clean-cut outdoorsman, with a physique like John Wayne and a jutting jaw like Cary Grant."

"Isn't that libelous?" I asked.

"Do you want us to help you or don't you?"

"Okay. How should I describe Lynda?"

"What should I say they did?"

"They rode off in the sunset, held hands in the moonlight, and sat talking to each other in front of a blazing fire."

"That's all?"

"You've still got tomorrow's story. Don't tell everything in one day."

"SHOULD I say anything about the president making Brent Secretary of the Interior?"

"Yes, but only after he finishes medical school."

"What happens when Lynda goes back to school?"

"Say that she hopes to see him soon and that informed sources say that he'll probably see her soon."

"Gee," I said, "once you get the knack of it, it isn't hard at all."

AFTER being fired up by the women reporters, I decided to see if I could scoop them, and I did. I discovered that Brent Eastman used to go with Miss American Indian of 1964, but they broke up, and the reason was that she discovered his great-great-grandfather killed her great-great-grandfather at Little Big Horn.

FUSSELMAN

THE FOLLOWING post card was in my mail Wednesday morning:

"Fie on you after all these years & fie on the I-J for making the same mistake daily. There is NO 5th Street in San Rafael—It's 5th AVENUE if you please. Watch your rhetoric and be sure you're right before printing —otherwise informed people will lose interest in your newspaper column. Better be safe than sorry. Better be sure first.

Jack Johnson

The gentleman was right about the avenue bit. If my memory is correct, for many years, what is now 5th Avenue was 5th Street as far west as H Street. It then became 5th Avenue. So we had 2nd-3rd-4th and 5th streets until the change was made to avoid confusion. Many of us have been saying "2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th" without using "street" at all. However, I do appreciate his interest.

He didn't put an address on his card, so, I am replying in this way.

REGARDING the "rhetoric," in something over three quarters of a century that I have been around, I have associated and worked with people in many walks of life with the resulting carry-over of speech mannerisms. I have a deadline with the I-J of before noon on Thursday. With my other activities, I find myself writing the column somewhere between midnight and four in the morning, after having taken a few hours sleep and I do make mistakes in grammar which are usually corrected by the editor.

I am sure the gentleman will be tolerant, as even he erred in the last line of his post card. I am not writing a thesis for a degree, but simply communicating as one would in a personal conversation.

THE GRIST to the mill this week is composed of many things that could be discussed such as the enlarged transit group—the state objects to the name "Veteran's Memorial Auditorium"—the supervisors clarify the employees freedom of speech area—San Anselmo and Fairfax citizens object to the route of the proposed freeway from the Richmond bridge to west Marin—board ties strings to flood control proposal and there is the possibility of their appealing to President Lyndon B. Johnson and Lady Bird Johnson on the beautification aspect—the board's concern over the propriety of the San Francisco newspaper merger with a possible referral to the Department of Justice—the request that the assistant administrator draw up an entire list of areas where the Marin County Bar Assn. can advise the county on legal matters—the opposition to the administrator's recommendation to do away with the senior citizens committee and plans—his recommendation that the airport committee be dissolved and that the proposed auditorium board not be created until 1968.

The administrator is in Europe on a 60 day vacation on full pay. Employees are entitled to three weeks after five years service which can be extended to compensate for overtime. He took advantage of this provision.

OVERTIME? The supervisors are required to put in whatever time is necessary to do the job. Why not their alter ego? Especially at $21,000 a year. Next Friday I hope to comment in some detail on these things.

The town of Friant was originally called Converse Ferry and later Pollasky. In the early 1920s, the name was changed to honor Thomas Friant, who, with T. S. White, father of Stewart Edward White, western writer, formed the White and Friant Lumber Co.

Market Closes Lower But Cuts Its Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today but cut its losses in a late rally. Trading was active.

Gains of 2 points or so by such stocks as SCM Corp., Raytheon and General Dynamics put a hot speculative flavor in the declining market.

The list absorbed its worst losses by early afternoon and then began to climb out of its hole.

In late dealings Union Carbide and Du Pont were still down a point or so and General Motors was off a fraction. But Boeing had converted a loss to a gain of more than a point.

Volume for the day was estimatd at 6.3 million shares compared with 7.42 million yesterday.

Preweekend profit-taking after a prolonged rise, international tensions and the virtual blackout of financial news in New York City due to a newspaper strike were cited as factors in the decline.

The trend was lower among steels, motors, airlines, office equipments and nonferrous metals. Tobaccos, oils, rails electronics and rubbers were mixed.

Raytheon, up more than a point, looked like the volume leader. Richfield Oil, also ahead more than a point, was heavily traded on news of its planned merger with Atlantic Refining, which gained close to a point.

Steels were unchanged to fractionally lower after erasing an early rise. Big Three autos, down from the start, showed fractional losses.

Many of the best recent gainers were sliced by precautionary selling. General Electric sagged nearly 2 points. IBM was off 4.

Down a point or so were such stocks as Du Pont, Eastern Air Lines, Xerox, Alcoa, Fairchild Camera, Kresge, KLM Airlines, Great Northern Paper, Motorola, ACF Industries and National Airlines.

Natco advanced about 2, General Dynamics more than 2, American South African Investment, Budd Co., Sinclair and Northrop about a point each.

U.S. Industrial Production Rises

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's industrial production increased slightly in August, the Federal Reserve Board reported today.

Record output of commercial and industrial machinery was blanced by declines in iron and steel. There was little change in the rate of production for automobile and other consumer goods.

Industrial production was measured at 144.4 on the Federal Reserve's scale compared to 144.2 in July. This meant that production of the nation's factories and mines was 44.4 per cent higher than the 1957-59 level.

The gain was the smallest since April but it marked the 10th straight month that the index has moved upward.

Reds: 'It's Up To Us To Beat Giants'

CINCINNATI (AP) — The way Manager Dick Sisler sees it, it will be up to his Cincinnati Reds to trip up the San Francisco Giants in their drive to the National League pennant.

"That was a big blow to us — losing our game while the Giants won," Sisler said after the Reds returned home from a road trip that ended with an 8-3 defeat to New York.

"Still, we can't win all our games and neither can they. They've got to start losing sometime.

"We still have seven games with the Giants, so it's up to us to do it."

The Giants' 5-1 victory over Houston was their 14th in a row and put them 4½ games ahead of the Reds, who are tied for second place with Los Angeles. The Dodgers beat the Chicago Cubs, 2-0.

"This is a ball club that can get plenty of hits," Sisler said. "I've said that all along. But we still need some more steady pitching."

Sisler said he will start Sammy Ellis, 19-9, tonight against the Astros and added, "I certainly hope we'll be able to beat the Houston club this weekend.

"I've seen some strange happenings in this game," he said.

"I'm not giving up any hope at all. We're going to battle all the way down to the end."

There is no game scheduled for Saturday and Sisler said he will start Joe Nuxhall in one of Sunday's games with the Astros.

"His arm is definitely ready now," he said of the veteran southpaw who posted a 10-3 record before injuring his elbow last month. Joey Jay, 9-7, will start the other game of the doubleheader.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Meet The Man Who Plunked A Presidential Posterior

I suppose you already know why Willie Mays didn't play last night. He didn't want to get a 502.

ONE OF the most interesting characters we've ever encountered along this sports trail will be in the county again this weekend to oversee the second annual Marin Invitational Tournament of Stars golf show at Peacock Gap.

He is 71-year-old Maurie Luxford, a Los Angeles public relations executive whose hobby and first love is promoting "star" tourneys of this type. Luxford has been so instrumental in helping this cause that the local committee, headed by builder Bill McDevitt, has made him honorary lifetime chairman.

LUXFORD WILL emcee Sunday's preceedings and does such a smooth job you will find yourself applauding guys you never heard of before. Bit part actors get equal billing with stars in Luxford's League; he has a knack of making everyone feel important, hence their all-out cooperation with his projects.

Luxford's story is inspiring.

He came to this country from his native New Zealand in 1919, friendless, penniless. Thirty-two years later, as president of the L. A. Recreation and Parks Commission, he dedicated the $5 million Pershing Square Garage and a $250,000 playground building.

A DEVOTEE of golf (divotee?), Luxford originated the Victory Tournaments in World War II that featured Hollywood stars and contributed approximately $14 million to the war effort. For the past 19 years he has directed the rousing Bing Crosby Pro-Am. "This year," laughs the spirited septuagenerian, "I submitted 8,613 amateur requests to Bing, and there were only 52 places open. The lucky ones thanked Bing—and the other 8,561 cursed me."

Luxford's many, many contributions to golf over the years have won him a niche in the sport's Hall of Fame—the only non-professional so honored. He has rubbed elbows with the great and near great in politics, business, sports and entertainment and is probably the only man to claim he hit a president of the United States in the fanny with a golf shot—and lived to tell about it.

"I WAS playing with President Eisenhower along with the Governor of Colorado at Cherry Hills Country Club in Denver in 1954," Maurie recalls. "As I took my stance for a wedge shot, with the President and Governor standing off to the edge of the green, I had the terrifying feeling that I was going to shank. Let me say at this point that Secret Service agents—all armed—were all around us. Well, I shanked the ball and hit the President on the hip pocket. I sat down in shock, and expected to feel machine gun bullets hit me. Finally, I arose and said, 'Mr. President, are you hurt.' He smiled, No, Maurie, it hit my wallet.' "

MAURIE LUXFORD has countless stories to tell and I'm sure you'll enjoy his presence at Peacock. I know I speak for many people in extending Maurie and his Mia a warm welcome back to Marin and a heartfelt thanks for their whole-hearted support of our worthy project.

TV FANS will readily recognize many of the Hollywood people at Peacock whose faces are more familiar than their names. For example, Bob Wilke. Last year the name didn't ring a bell but the moment I laid eyes on him I recognized him as the old meany who has played villain roles all his life. Scared hell out of me, but he turned out to be a nice guy. Since last year Wilke has gone straight, now playing the sheriff in "The Legend of Jesse James" on TV. He'll be back at the Gap Sunday.

HORSE OPRY fans also will want the autograph of Clint Eastwood, star of "Rawhide" and Richard Long of "Big Valley"; old timers will be delighted to see in person Buddy Rogers and Richard Arlen. Best golfers among the celebs will be Wilke (boo), Robert Sterling and John Agar.

SOME OF the busiest Marinites in the county over the weekend will be those in charge of entertain-

A NO-NO IN THAT OTHER LEAGUE

Mighty Irish Invade Cal

BERKELEY, (AP) — Coach Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame finds out tomorrow how his club moves without Heisman Trophy winner John Huarte as the Fighting Irish battle the Bears of California in their 1965 season opener at Berkeley.

Parseghian enjoyed a highly successful first year as head man at South Bend and it will take perfection to top it. He reached down to elevate Huarte as his starting quarterback and the Irish paraded to a 9-1 record, losing only their finale to Southern California.

The 20-17 setback at Los Angeles undoubtedly cost Notre Dame the mythical national title. The year before on their invasion of the West Coast the Irish were upset by Stanford 24-14. This time the Irish are favored by two touchdowns.

Coach Ray Willsey at California faces a problem similar to that of Parseghian. He lost ace passer Craig Morton who finished his three years of eligibility last fall after re-writing the school's aerial record books.

Notre Dame opens with senior Bill Zloch at the Helm and he had only 10 minutes of playing time last season, half of these at split end. California's Jim Hunt lettered and played extensively a year ago but mainly as the defensive safetyman.

Hunt threw only six passes in 1964, completing five of them, one for a touchdown against Navy on what was supposed to be a clock stopper so Morton could return to action.

The 55,000 fans expected in Cal's 80,000 seat Memorial Stadium and those watching the regional telecast along the Pacific Coast, in the Great Lakes Region and in sections of the Northeast, will see more running than passing after the 1:30 p.m. kickoff.

At California, Willsey has switched to a slot T formation and moved ependable Tom Relles from fullback to the all-important wingback position. Newcomers Ted Parks, from the frosh, and Lloyd Reist, ineligible last year, share the other halfback position.

Offensively, Notre Dame's starting line will average 228 and California 226. Defensively, the Irish have a line average of 222 and the Bears 221. But Notre Dame boats far more depth.

Clay Already Ballyhooing Nov. 22 Title Date With Floyd In Vegas

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay has started beating the ballyhoo drums for his Nov. 22 title defense in Las Vegas against Floyd Patterson.

"It will be the greatest of all time," said Clay (call me Muhammad Ali), after he announced at a press conference yesterday that the 15-rounder had been set for Las Vegas and that the Nevada Athletic Commission had approved it as a title fight.

With his keen eyes on the receipts from the gate at Convention Center and theater-television, the undefeated champion praised his challenger, the former, two-time champion who has been blitzed twice in one round by Sonny Liston.

"Those people who think Patterson will fall in one minute are wrong," he said. "He won't fall that quick. He's fast, determined and it's do or die for him. This means new life to him. I look for a very tough fight and I think it will go six or seven rounds."

Clay, in a press conference limited to the Associated Press and United Press International, said the hitches which had held up announcement of the fight at a giant press conference Tuesday, had been straightened out.

He said he didn't agree to the fight Tuesday because his attorney, Edward Jacko, couldn't appear that day and because the Nevada Athletic Commission had said the fight could not be billed for the title.

Bud Traynor, the chairman of the Nevada body, said then (and changed his position later) that the World Boxing Association did not recognize Clay as champion and Nevada, as a member of the WBA, would stick with the WBA's position.

Al Bolan, a Patterson advisor who will be general manager of the fight promotion, said that Traynor had wired him that the Commission had agreed unanimously now to recognize the fight as a title contest.

Stars Golf: Dino Out But Lucy 'In'

By JIM GILMARTIN

Autograph collectors should enjoy a field day Sunday at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael where a glittering array of show business and sports personalities will participate in the second annual Marin Invitational Tournament of Stars golf event.

Starting at 8:30 a.m. the first of 30 foursomes will start teeing off to provide spectators with a day-long program of fun and good golf.

Many of the Hollywood stars originally scheduled to appear have cancelled out due to other commitments, but tourney chairman William H. McDevitt of San Rafael today assured fans that the lineup will be the greatest collection of entertainment people ever assembled in Marin.

McDevitt last night received word that Dean Martin has been forced to cancel his appearance, but the chairman was quick to add that comedienne Lucille Ball will be one of the spectators. Her husband, comedian Gary Morton, will play in the tourney.

A plane load of 45 Hollywood visitors will arrive in San Francisco tomorrow afternoon, staying at the Edgewater Inn at Corte Madera before returning to Los Angeles Sunday night after an awards banquet at Peacock Gap.

Baseball figures Frank "Lefty" O'Doul and Joe DiMaggio and Tony Trabert of tennis fame will represent the sports world. Among the top-flight amateurs scheduled to play are George Gnau, Ron Cerrudo, Robert Hannah and Tom Dixon.

The balance of the field will be made up by socially-prominent, low handicap golfers, including a number of Marin County club champions.

Admission tickets, priced at $2 each, are on sale at Marin golf clubs and sports shops and will be available at the gate Sunday.

A $20 per plate celebrity banquet tomorrow night at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael has been sold out, McDevitt reported.

Juan To Oppose Braves Tonight

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—It was the old second baseman Laughing Larry Doyle who said "it's great to be young and to be a Giant" and the saying still applied today, 50 years later.

Young San Francisco Giants Bob Bolin, Willie McCovey, and Len Gabrielson sparked the San Francisco Giants to their 14th straight win last night as they belted Houston 5-1, and pushed their lead to 4½ games over Los Angeles and Cincinnati.

The Giants now have to test their mettle in a rough six games at Milwaukee and Cincinnati, but just three Giant wins would keep the team in good shape for its return home Sept. 22. That return already promises to be a wild one, complete with airport near-riot, parade and civic welcome as San Francisco enjoys an epidemic of pennant fever.

But the Giants still have to produce victory on the field and tonight they send ace Juan Marichal (22-10) out to match tosses with Wade Blasingame (16-9) of the Braves in a battle of hard throwers.

McCovey Smashes 36th Home Run

McCovey unloaded homer No. 36 off Farrell in the third before four more Astro pitchers shut out the Giants on just two hits over the last six innings. The Giants thus won Wednesday and Thursday night's games with a total of only 11 hits.

But it did not matter because the side-wheeling Bolin had as good stuff as he has had all year. He went all the way to toss the six-hit win and only lost his shutout in the ninth with Jim Wynn's double doing most of the damage. Bolin emerged with a flashy 11-5 record and fanned seven on his way to the victory.

It was a big win for the Giants for another reason. They rested Willie Mays and still won. Now Willie will be ready to go in the big battle with the Braves and Redlegs.

GIANT GOAL: SPLIT REMAINING GAMES

Time Running Out On Reds, Dodgers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The only thing Willie Mays did was get egg on his shirt but the San Francisco Giants took another long stride toward tucking the National League pennant in their back pocket.

Playing without Mays for only the sixth time this season, the Giants reeled off their 14th straight victory by beating Houston 5-1 last night and stretched their lead to 4½ games over Cincinnati and Los Angeles.

Mays took part in a pre-game egg-throwing contest and finished out of the money after one of the eggs broke in his hand and splattered. Then he sat down on orders from Manager Herman Franks, his day's work done.

It was the 15th time this season Franks had decided to give Mays a rest but only the sixth time he was not forced to use him at some point in the game.

The Giants, meanwhile, made the most of Cincinnati's loss to the New York Mets, tacked one full game on their lead and assumed a commanding position with time running out on the Reds and Dodgers.

The Giants now have 16 games left — including seven with the Reds. If they play .500 ball the rest of the way, the Reds and Dodgers will have to win 12 of their remaining 15 games to finish in a tie. Los Angeles and Cincinnati meet three more times.

The Giants move on to Milwaukee tonight for the opener of a three-game series. The Reds, who lost to the Mets 7-3, are at home for a three-game set against Houston and the Dodgers, who downed the Chicago Cubs 2-0, open a three-game series at St. Louis.

In other NL games Thursday, fourth-place Milwaukee slipped seven games back after an 8-6 loss at Philadelphia and fifth-place Pittsburgh fell 9 ½ games behind, dropping a 2-1 decision to St. Louis.

Johnny Stephenson did most of the damage against the Reds. The Mets catcher, who had only one homer going into the game, hit a three-run shot in the third inning and a solo homer in the eighth. He also beat out a bunt for a single in the sixth and scored on a squeeze bunt by pitcher Al Jackson.

Sandy Koufax, the Dodgers 22-game winner, made his second relief appearance of the season in the ninth inning against the Cubs, setting them down 1-2-3 after Claude Osteen had walked leadoff man Billy Williams. Osteen, now 14-14, allowed only five hits before Koufax took over.

The Dodgers scored in the first on singles by Maury Wills, Jim Gilliam and Willie Davis off Bill Faul. They scored again in the second on singles by Wes Parker and Osteen and walks to Wills and Davis.

The Phillies downed the Braves with a three-run eighth inning rally in which Dick Stuart doubled in the tie-breaking run and then Rich Allen smacked a two-run single. Stuart and Johnny Callison homered for Philadelphia while Eddie Mathews connected for Milwaukee.

The Cardinals snapped a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning against the Pirates when Bob Tolan singled, moved up on a sacrifice and scored on Lou Brock's single. Tracy Stallard got the victory for an 11-7 record.

COAST COLLEGES

Stanford Choice To Top San Jose

STANFORD (AP) — Tabbed as the dark horse candidate for the Rose Bowl, the Stanford Indians open their 1965 football season Saturday facing the San Jose State Spartans who rate the Tribe No. 1 among the teams they'd like to beat.

Boasting their real Indian quarterback, Dave Lewis of Chukchansi descent, the Indians have speed and power in their backfield with Ray Handley, Bob Blunt and John Read. Plus that, Lewis can pass, run and kick.

Ken Berry again guides the attack with a pair of solid runners in John Travis and Charley Harraway. Big man on the line is Brent Berry, no relation to Ken, a 245-pounder who will go both on offense and defense.

A crowd of about 20,000 is expected at the Stanford Stadium for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff with the Indians favored by three touchdowns in the neighborhood rivalry.

Stanford operates from the I formation or power I with the wingback close-in. Blunt, who understudied Handley last season, gets a starting job adding his breakaway speed to the power of Handley and Read.

The Indians have won 19 of the 21 games between the two schools, but Stanford doesn't forget that in 1960, San Jose State came on to score a 34-20 victory and last year the margin for Stanford was but 10-8.

Ken Berry presents several problems as a good passer who scrambles well and can run if necessary. Generally, however, the hopes of the Spartans this season rests with the performances of several newcomers from the junior college ranks.

"How they will react, we don't know," says Anderson of his newcomers.

OTHER GAMES

University of California takes on Notre Dame tomorrow in another big game on the coast (see page 17). USC hosts Minnesota tonight to start the coast football slate rolling. Then tomorrow, Oregon State is at Illinois, UCLA is at Michigan State and Washington State is at Iowa, as Pacific Athletic Conference clubs go against those of the Big Ten.

In other games tomorrow, Oregon is at Pittsburgh, Idaho plays at Washington and University of Pacific is at San Diego State.

Inland Deer Season Opens Tomorrow—Prospects 'Fair'

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— California's most popular big game hunting season, for inland deer, opens tomorrow with prospects ranging from "fair" to "good."

The State Fish and Game Department reports the animals, especially in Northern California, generally are "plentiful and in excellent condition" but "scattered over a wide range."

"With some local exceptions, prospects are for even better deer hunting than last year," the department says.

"Good" hunting was predicted for the Inyo-Mono area on the east side of the Sierra, and "fair" shooting was seen for most of Southern California.

The season, which begins a half-hour before sunrise, will overlap slightly into the coastal shoot, which ends Sunday evening.

The inland season has three separate closing dates and bag limits, depending upon the region.

For the bulk of the state—the Sierra and Southern California—the season lasts through Nov. 7, with a limit of one forked-horn buck or better. In Northwestern California, shooting ends Oct. 31, with a two forked-horn buck limit. In Northeastern California, firing lasts only three weeks, through Oct. 10, and the limit is one three-point buck.

The department says hunters should be in for "a repeat of the good 1964 harvest," but they will probably "have to work a little harder for their rewards" due to scattered deer.

Last year, California's 400,000 deer hunters killed 45,144 bucks during the inland season. This, coupled with the 21,440 downedthe total buck kill to 66,584—during the coastal shoot, brought the biggest since 1961.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Slated

San Anselmo competition in the Punt, Pass and Kick national contest for boys will be held at Memorial Park on Saturday, Oct. 9, it was announced today by Frank Quinn, director of athletics for the San Anselmo Recreation Department.

The contest, sponsored by Ford dealers and the National Football League, is open to boys 8 through 13. Local competition in thousands of cities throughout the country will determine winners in each age group. Prizes range from trophies to warm-up jackets and football equipment.

TALL IN THE SADDLE

Elongated Jockey Has Fine Day At Meadows

SAN MATEO (AP)—Bobby Jennings, who at six feet describes himself as horse racing's tallest jockey, rode three winners yesterday at the second day of the season at Bay Meadows race track.

In the featured eighth race, Evening Stroll won the Hillsdale $3,500 purse in a time of 1:10 over the clear and fast six furlong course.

Evening Stroll started well and won driving, increasing her lead steadily under strong handling in the stretch. Chula Cover came up fast on the outside in the final quarter and finished second in the race for 3-year-old and up fillies and mares.

Gabrielson, Schofield Deals Prove Giants' Turning Point

CONNOLLY

Now that it appears the Giants are likely pennant winners for 1965, the question rises, who is entitled to the lion's share of glory? Should it go to management for concocting player deals that clicked; should it be applied to the scheming of Manager Herman Franks in building a team spirit that never existed before; or should it be blamed on a series of first aid measures necessitated through the loss of first baseman Orland Cepeda or the fight talk following the Marichal-Roseboro setto that so gloriously turned into a blessing, rather than a curse, for the team in its stretch drive to reach the top?

It is an old axiom in all branches of sports — a team makes its own breaks. So if you are inclined to say the Giants have been lucky, we'll agree, if you'll admit they fought visciously, with tiger-like determination plus hustle and harmony.

The turning point in the Giants' big poosh was helped principaly by twol deals consumated at opportune moments. No. 1 deal was landing scrappy Dick Schofield for shortstop. No. 2 was the acquisition of outfielder Lenny Gabrielson.

SCHOFIELD GAVE balance and confidence to the Giant infield as well as a seasoned pressure proof player with a flare for getting on base.

Gabrielson, young, hustling outfielder added an extra left-handed hitter to the roster. Until he arrived Matty Alou, Tom Haller and Willie McCovey were the only lefties. Besides his youth, size and power "Gabe" added a load of enthusiasm. He is everything a top flight public relations man could do for the Giants.

TOM SHEEHAN, head Giant scout, in advising the management to give up catcher Ed Bailey, Harvey Kuenn and Bob Hendley, really rassled with fate. He was lucky his judgment on Gabrielson turned out okay. Also, Sheehan helped "cut" heavy sugar salaries of Bailey and Kuenn and substituted smaller ones with Gabrielson and catcher Dick Bertell.

But the cream of the deal has to be acquiring Gabrielson, a seasoned youngster who is fast ripening into a major league "comer."

THE MENTION of distributing glory pats would be incomplete without Willie Mays. The Giant outfielder has as much to do, if not more, with S.F. being where it is in the pennant race, than all the others combined, including Juan Marichal, the Bullpen, and even the purse of owner Horace Stoneham. Without Willie, the Giants lack inspiration; with him they are loaded. It was Mays who "adopted" Willie McCovey as an outfield companion and it was Mays who inspired McCovey to resume his first base duties with special emphasis on the strike zone. McCovey has taken care of both items and Mays can be given thanks for it.

ANY CREDIT to Mays, players or management would be unfair if the name of Herman Franks, manager, wasn't included.

"I intend to play the game from day to day," Franks explained last winter in his initial press debut. "If it takes three starting pitchers to win one game, I'll use 'em rather than lose the ball game."

And that is exactly the pattern the Giants followed all season. Sometimes I thought he was "chewing up his pitching staff." Instead he was developing a bullpen, the like of which has never been seen around the National League loop for many years.

Maxwell Leads At Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Is it worse for the wind to blow into your face or sideways across the fairway when you play golf?

"Id' rather have it sideways, then I can use it a bit — curve the ball into it or maybe let the wind take it some," says Dave Marr. The Professional Golfers Association champion proved his point by shooting a three-under-par 33-36—69, just one stroke off the pace in the first round of the Portland Open Thursday.

"I don't think the wind makes that much difference," said Jack Nicklaus, the year's big money winner, who had a 34-35—69.

Both of them are long hitters and they thought the wind's worst effect was in drying the greens so that approach shots bounced.

"You have to be lucky when the wind blows like that," said a shorter hitter, veteran Billy Maxwell, who led the pack with 32-36—68 on the par 35-37—72 Portland Golf Club course.

The wind came up just as the professionals started on the first tee. It blew from the east out of the Columbia River gorge. That made it sideways across about 14 of the fairways. It reached gusts of 38 miles an hour.

Maxwell said that the wind helped him on the par 5 holes.

It did not help many, thought. Of the 143 players only 10 bettered par and six equalled it — and this on a course 6,445 yards long.

Maxwell was alone at 68. Joining Nicklaus and Marr at 69 was Bob Roseburg, who made his first start in three weeks.

49er Forecast 8-6 Record And Fourth Place Finish

With the annual head-knocking season in full force, it is time for a run-down on the prospects of the fourteen National Football League entrants, with emphasis on the San Francisco 49ers and their opponents.

In the Eastern Conference the Cleveland Browns look a cinch to repeat for the title just as long as big Jimmy Brown stays healthy. Dr. Frank Ryan has never been my idea of a great quarterback but he has the tools to do the job. His only real competition will come from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The rest of the eastern group looks like so much junk. In order, we pick 'em the Washington Redskins, Dallas Cowboys, Philadelphia Eagles, Pittsburgh Steelers and New York Giants. If the 49ers were in this group they could finish second with a real shot at the top spot. Unfortunately, they are not.

In spite of Sunday's loss to the L.A. Rams, the Niners are a greatly improved team this year, and on a given Sunday could beat any team in the league. Morale is high, injuries few, and with Ken Willard and John David Crow the 49ers finally have a running threat that should allow the development of a potentially spectacular passing attack.

Weaknesses are found in the secondary defense and in reserve strength where the rookies are big and strong but lack experience. The real key to the improvement of the 49ers is that the men who have been cut from the squad have found jobs on other NFL teams.

The best we can do for the Niners this year is a fourth place finish behind the Green Bay Packers, Minnesota Vikings and Baltimore Colts, and ahead of the Rams, Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions. Let's take a look at the Western Conference teams and the two Eastern opponents of the 49ers in order of appearance.

CHICAGO: The Bears make a habit of beating the 49ers in Kezar, but they show general weakness in almost all departments that will take time to cure. The 49ers should get off winging.

PITTSBURGH: The Steelers traded draft choices for veterans and castoffs for so many years they are left with a team that should go nowhere fast. If the Niners don't win this one they had better start remodeling.

BALTIMORE: Defense is the only weakness of the Colts, but the great Johnny Unitas should find more of same in the 49ers pass defense. Should be a high scoring thriller with an edge to the Colts.

GREEN BAY: The Packers will be out for revenge against the 49ers and the rest of the league. Coach Lombardi has not hesitated to rebuild a team that could not be beaten but was. Bart Starr, Jimmy Taylor & Co. should win most of their games.

LOS ANGELES: Three road games in three weeks won't help the Niners, who may be battered and bruised by this time. An edge to the Rams in L.A. and to the 49ers in S.F.

MINNESOTA: Some experts are picking the Vikings to cop it all, but I would hate to have all my eggs in one basket. That would be scrambling quarterback Fran Tarkenton. Scrambled eggs if Fran should get hurt.

DALLAS: Cowboy fortunes go up and down, but the Niners showed they could handle this team and should again.

DETROIT: The Lions have the names, but they play like tired old men, which they are in many cases. A tough defensive team but they fail to score more than their opponents.

Put the 49ers down for an eight won, six lost season and call it a great step forward if this goal should be reached. With a better record comes excitement. With a poorer record we can always apply for aid under the President's War on Poverty program.

Drake-Petaluma Rematch Tonight

Unbeaten Drake takes on Petaluma tonight in the North Bay city in a game between two teams that won 17 out of 18 games last season.

The Pirates, with nine straight victories under their belts and 17 in 18 over the last two years, face a rough Petaluma team that only lost one game last year—that one to Drake. Game time tonight is 8 o'clock.

Coach Bob Franceschini is determined to win the game, not only for his team but for the league. "I feel our league should have had a representative in last year's North-South football game, but the league was bypassed. I guess the only way for the league to get noticed is to win its non-league games."

A large group of Drake supporters should be on hand to see if the much publicized fullback Dean Lazzarini will be as fast and better as he has the past two years.

Franceschini feels he's better than ever. "He's much faster on his starts and has been our leader in practice," the head mentor commented.

A fullback last year, Lazzarini has been moved to fullback this season "to be more mobile," said Franceschini. "He can run to either side better when he's lined up as a fullback." Needless to say, Drake's offense is built around this speedster.

Novato Gridders Favored

The Hornets, picked as co-favorites to win the Marin Athletic League title, are favored to whip the visiting Falcons from the Diablo Athletic League.

One of the main items in the Novato arsenal wil be tailback Dick Otis, the league's top rusher last year. Working from the I formation, this boy has power, speed and great balance. He'll be joined in the starting offensive backfield by quarterback John Dolinsek, fullback Bill Coots and halfback Frank Perachiotti.

Asked how it felt to be picked as a favorite, Novato head coach Harry Moore said, "You tend to worry more." He mentioned that there is more pressure to win when picked to do so. It will be Moore's first game as head coach at Novato, although he was head coach a short time at Marin Catholic before moving to the Novato school. He was asistant last season under Marlin Olsen, but the latter had to step down because of his increased load as head counsellor.

The Hornets haven't suffered any serious injuries, rather the normal bumps and bruises associated with the game. Starting offensive lineup for tomorrow's game:

TAM '11' UNVEILS PRO TYPE ATTACK

Willie Hector, bringing his pro type offense with him, will make his debut as a head prep football coach tomorrow afternoon at Kentfield when his Tamalpais High School Indians take on Riordan of San Francisco.

The game will start at 1:30 p.m. in College of Marin stadium, with the visitors tabbed a favorite to win the opener.

Hector, a graduate of Tam, went on to star at College of Pacific, then played with the Los Angeles Rams and Denver Broncos. So he knows what he's talking about when he teaches the pro T-formation.

He will go two platoon all the way tomorrow, he said, and he has a complete offensive team and a complete defensive squad. "But I'm going into the game in the dark. We don't know anything about this Riordan team," he said.

Tam will probably split its offensive game down the middle with ground and air attacks. "It's our first game and we have to see who's doing the job," he declared. If all goes well, he plans to go through the season with complete two-platoon football. He'll make up his mind when he sees what the kids do.

TROJANS REBUILDING

Terra Linda Meets Clayton Valley '11'

Terra Linda High School's footballers will try to start the season on the right foot tonight when they tangle with Clayton Valley High of Concord at 8 o'clock on the San Rafael Bulldogs' field.

Because of inadequate bleacher facilities at Terra Linda High, all the Trojans' home games will be played at San Rafael High.

It will be the first game as head T.L. coach for Brad Squires, who has taken over control after Pete Limm moved up to College of Marin. Squires reported his boys will go into tonight's game at full strength, with no serious injuries.

Sid Norman, a boy who saw only a few minutes' worth of varsity action last year, will open at quarterback for the Trojans tonight against the Eagles of the Diablo Valley Athletic League. Terra Linda was beaten only once last year and that loss was against champion Drake in the final game of the season.

But many of the 1964 stars are gone and Squires is faced with a rebuilding job.

'Our defense has looked vary good," said Squires, "but our offense has come a little slower." He plans to platoon his offense and defense as much as possible, but said about five of his gladiators will have to go both ways. The Trojans will be working from a wing-T, with a split end on occasions.

Small But Tough Mariners Host Menlo Squad Tonight

The Tars opened the season last year at Menlo and barely escaped with their lives after taking a 40-0 drubbing. But things should be different this year because most of the big guns for Menlo are gone.

A newcomer to the Tar squad is quarterback Gary Lieberman, star last year at Terra Linda High School. He is expected to give veteran Les Wisner a rough battle for the starting quarterback job later in the season.

Most of Marin's running game will be centered around three former stars from the Marin Athletic League. Halfbacks Dave Auerbach (Redwood), Tim Harr (San Rafael) and Tim Garvin (Terra Linda) will do most of the ball carrying for the Tars, and all three proved their talents in prep ball. But only time will tell how they adapt to the jump into tough junior college competition.

Marin's defense should be one of the strong points of the 1965 season, indicated by early game-type scrimmages. Head coach Dick Read praised the defensive work of Steve Minutoli, Norman Krueter, Dennis Camgros and Pete Dornbach. Read also had kind words for the blocking of offensive lineman Bob Stock, Frank Onorato and Kris Barnett.

Joe DeMasi, hard-running fullback from Drake, will be out of action for the entire season because of a back ailment, Read announced.

Menlo had eight gridders named to the 1964 All-Coast Conference team after a championship year. Luckily for the Tars, all eight men are no longer at Menlo. The Oaks' top two halfbacks last year were pluncked by Stanford University. Menlo is considered a farm team for that institution, as Stanford helps quite a few of its potential students through that junior college.

Quarterback for Menlo is Pete Mullins, all-city performer last year for Washington High of San Francisco. With this boy doing the passing, Menlo should open the season with quite a fine aerial attack.

Assisting Read in the coaching department will be Jim McGowan, Ed Grimm and newcomer Pete Limm, up from Terra Linda High School.

Les Wisner, qb; Ray Miller, fb; Tim Garvin, hb; Dave Auerbach, hb; Bob Hermsmeyer, c; Bob Stock, g; Frank Onorato, g; Mike Hammerman, t; Kris Barnett, t; Bill Hall, e; Bill Collins, e.

The tourney, free of admission charge, is sanctioned by the American Water Ski Assn. Chairman Jaap Suyderhoud said there will be both competition and demonstration skiing, with some national champions taking part.

Among the competing stars will be Chuck Stearns, national champion and captain of the U.S. World team, and Larry Penachio, No. 2 man in U.S. water skiing.

Fairfax Plan Committees Members Sought By Mayor

Fairfax Mayor Frank L. Lawrence today called for residents of Fairfax and the Upper Ross Valley to serve on committees which will make recommendations on the joint city-county general plan for the Fairfax area.

The first phase of the plan is about to start, and it requires six citizen committees, Lawrence said.

The committees will cover the following areas: residential, commercial, streets and highways, schools and recreation, public and quasi-public facilities and community character and appearance.

Committees will review existing conditions in their areas of study and make policy recommendations. Their reports will be used by the county planning staff when it prepares the plan, Lawrence said.

"Committees will be expected to complete their work in six months," he said. "I want to urge all interested residents of both Fairfax and the Upper Ross Valley above the city to volunteer their services for this important community task."

All persons interested in serving on a committee may notify the Fairfax city administrator's office by telephone or letter within 10 days, Lawrence said.

The city council will then review the names and appoint citizens to each committee, he said.

Long-Time Felon Is Not Paroled

HUTTONSVILLE, W.Va. (AP) —William Hollie Griffith, the 73-year-old convict who has spent more than a half century behind bars, has again failed to make parole.

The West Virginia Board of Probation and Parole interviewed the former badman Wednesday for the 16th time and then turned down his plea for freedom. The board did not disclose its reasons for denying the parole.

Griffith was sentenced to life in prison in 1915 after killing a law officer during a gun battle. He escaped from the West Virginia penitentiary six years later and was convicted of killing two more men during three weeks of freedom.

Evidence is mounting that some meteorites come from the moon, scientists report.

Russ Wife Complains Husband Too Rich

Rights Group Seeking To Revitalize

A bare quorum of the Marin County Human Rights Commission moved last night to revitalize the commission, even to the point of cutting its membership in half.

With only seven of the 25 commissioners present and a past history of absenteeism, Chairman James Quiett said, "people just don't attend." He said there will have to be some organizational changes "even if it means a smaller commission."

The executive board of the commission will meet Sept. 28 to study what steps should be taken to revamp the commission.

The commission also set up a three-member task force to study formation of neighborhood councils throughout Marin to improve race relations. Named to the committee were Mrs. Inez Bailey, Rev. Karel F. Botermans, Rev. John O'Conner, said Walter Bremond, county director of community relations.

The commission cancelled its tentatively scheduled Sept. 30 meeting for discussion of neighborhood councils, and set its next meeting for Oct. 7.

Rosa Ortiz Marries Thomas Albin Gruhn

The Rev. Leander Lecher of St. Rita's Church in Fairfax officiated at the nuptial mass uniting in marriage Rosa Maria Ortiz of San Francisco and Thomas Albin Gruhn of San Anselmo at 11 a.m. on Sept. 4.

Rosa, given in marriage by her brother, Jose Samuel Ortiz of San Francisco, wore a full-length ivory lace gown with chapel trim. Her sister, Gladys Ortiz of San Bruno, wore a street-length pink taffeta gown as maid of honor. Bridesmaid Mary Gruhn of San Anselmo, sister of the bridegroom, wore an identical dress in lavender.

The bridegroom's brother, Anthony Gruhn, and Steven Sciaroni were altar boys. Another brother, Dennis Gruhn of San Anselmo, served as best man, with John Dell of San Francisco and Don Giannini of San Carlos ushering.

Following a wedding trip to Carmel, the couple will make their home in Berkeley where the bride is employed at the University Medical Center and Thomas is a teaching assistant and graduate student.

Rosa was graduated from San Francisco College For Women with a degree in chemistry, and she is the sister of Mrs. Nora Dalton of San Bruno, the Rev. J. Ricardo Ortiz of Panama, and Adela, Mauricio and Francisco A. Ortiz, all of El Salvadore.

of Belvedere are greeting many old friends. Their 72 foot yacht, the Baruna, is taking part in the series. Last night the Michaels honored the visiting yachtsmen at a cocktail party for 200 guests at their home on Golden Gate Avenue. Among the guests were Robert Johnson, owner of the Ticonderoga, the Portland, Ore., boat which set a record in this year's Trans-Pacific yacht race. The Ticonderoga is berthed in Belvedere at San Francisco Yacht Club's harbor, where she has been greatly admired by local yachtsmen.

HONORING THEIR houseguest, Jacques Barzun, dean of the Graduate School of Columbia University, was the dinner which Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Ruddock gave Wednesday night at the Villa Taverna in San Francisco. Guests, aside from Dean Barzun and Harold Emerson of New York City, were Bay Area Alumni of Columbia, and include Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kempner, Mr. and Mrs. George Kempner, Mr. and Mrs. George Buland, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cox and their daughter, Cynthia Cox.

The California visit of Dean Barzun, noted educator and author, was occasioned by invitations to speak at several Western universities. He will make an address at the University of California later this week. As director of the World Affairs Council of Northern California, Merritt Ruddock has been representing the council at the activities of the International Industrial Conference held in San Francisco. During the conferences Monday night was set aside for a series of more than a hundred small dinner parties, hosted by local people. The Ruddocks entertained a group that evening including Jorge A. Montealegre, Nicaraguan industrialist, Tamizul Haque, East Pakistan manufacturer, Dr. F. C. Lindvall, chairman of the division of engineering and applied sciences at the California Institute of Technology, and Mrs. Lindvall, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Smith of Milwaukee, and Marin friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Lyman and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayward of Ross.

THE PLIGHT OF Mr. Haque of East Pakistan was uppermost in everyone's minds that evening. He had left his country on September 3 to come to San Francisco for the industrial conclave and since trouble between his country and India has broken out, he now does not know when he will be able to return home.

THE DILWYN L. BOYDENS of San Rafael and their son, Jim, have returned from a trip to Nebraska, and Jim was at Blue Lake for a short time before returning to attend San Rafael High School.

Prussian officer Baron Von Steuben who served in the American army, was born on this day in 1730.

On this day in history:

In 1939, Russia invaded Poland in World War II.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes You Need A Little Luck But Don't Press It Too Hard

A horrible sight like this makes you want to go right out and eat a big steak.

When this hand came up in the Chicago-Los Angeles match a few weeks ago, five hundred kibitzers were watching every bid and play on an electrical display board.

COULD SEE ALL

They could see all of the cards, but players could see only their own cards and the dummy.

East craftily played the king of diamonds at the first trick, giving South the impression that West had the queen of diamonds. South ruffed and tried a finesse with the ten of clubs, losing to the king.

East returned the ace of diamonds, and South ruffed again. Now South led the ace of spades and started on the clubs. He was safe if East had the queen of spades or if West had three clubs.

RUFFS EARLY

As luck would have it, West ruffed the third club and returned a low heart. The contract depended on which heart declarer played from the dummy.

Everybody in the audience would have played the king of hearts from dummy, but it wasn't so easy for Bob Hamman, the Los Angeles expert who played the South hand.

If he guessed right, everybody in the audience would ask: "What took you so long?"

SPADE QUEEN

Hamman thought West held the queen of diamonds as well as the queen of spades. If West also held the ace of hearts, surely he would have entered the bidding.

It was all very logical, so Hamman played the low heart from the dummy and went down one.

It's at a time like this that you know who your friends are. There wasn't a dry eye in the house.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:
♠ Q 5
♥ A 9 6 5 3
♣ 7 4

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

Despite the trump length, this is a very poor hand. All you can afford is the simple raise to two hearts.

Negro Actress Faces Two-Hour Solo Effort

Presenting a one-woman performance for almost two hours is no easy task, but actress Pauline Myers claims "compiling the material was the difficult part."

Miss Myers who will open a two-weekend stand at the Festival Theater in San Anselmo tonight has been working on her show for eight years.

"It was a long time weeding out material," she said, indicating that the show she will present in Marin is a long way from her first one-woman performance before a hometown church audience in Los Angeles.

Miss Myers' show, "The World of My America," presents the story "of my people, the Negro people," from their earliest days in the United States to the present.

"I chose the widest variety of characters," she said. "It's not preaching, but it will have meaning."

She draws heavily on the works of Langston Hughes and the poems of Paul Laurence Dunbar to create her story, which ranges from drama to comedy to pathos.

She said she has made only one addition in the past year. New material does not easily fit into a show "that took years to perfect," she said.

Miss Myers will open the Festival Theater's 1965-66 season with performances at 8:30 p.m. today and tomorrow and 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the theater at Bolinas Avenue and Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

She will return for three performances Sept. 24, 25 and 26, before taking her show to New York in October.

Miss Myers, who has appeared on stage and in films for 30 years and has worked in many television series, recently appeared in the movie "To Kill a Mockingbird" with Gregory Peck.

State Chalks Up Record Earnings

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state chalked up a record profit of $38,003,551 on its investment of surplus treasury funds during the fiscal year that ended June 30.

That's the word from State Treasurer Bert A. Betts, who said Wednesday the investment earnings were up $5.6 million or 16.9 per cent over last year.

The state kept an average of $966.59 million invested each day of the fiscal year. It purchased and sold some $12 billion worth of securities to achieve the earnings record.

Some $23.9 million in investment earnings went into the general fund. The remainder went into funds of governmental subdivisions.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Liver Transplants Welcome Idea But Not Yet Practical

VAN DELLEN

New livers for old is a welcome thought but is not practical at this time. The use of a man-made machine to replace the liver is less successful than the artificial kidney. This is understandable because both are excretory organs but the liver has many additional duties, including the synthesis, metabolism, and detoxification of many foods and poisons.

Dr. Ben Eiseman of the University of Kentucky college of medicine removes livers from pigs and uses them as artificial organs. The circulation from the sick individual is pumped through the pig's hepatic structure and returned to the patient. The duration of the treatment lasts approximately six hours, because the organ ceases to function after this time.

DR. EISEMAN tried the procedure on eight patients in terminal liver failure. All but one were comatose because of advanced cirrhosis. They regained consciousness with clearing of the mind. Some received three periods of treatment with different pigs' livers. The good effects were temporary, but the experiments proved that transplantation of this organ is feasible.

Cross-circulation between two humans has been done by Dr. J. W. Eschbach and his colleagues. The circulation of a 21-year-old woman with severe liver damage was connected with a 40-year-old male volunteer with a normal liver, who was dying from cancer. She responded dramatically by coming out of the coma. Her jaundiced skin cleared. Twenty-one days later she died of hemorrhage, a common complication of liver trouble.

LIVER TRANSPLANTATION is technically possible but not at this time, because the organ degenerates within a few hours after death. The donee would not benefit under these circumstances.

The time has come when it is possible to maintain life indefinitely with the repeated use of artificial organs. It is not advisable when it prolongs death; only when it extends life.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HEARTACHE

M. R. S. writes: Is heartache a real physical pain? I lost my husband in March following a sudden heart attack. He had not been ill. I managed to get through the funeral, but immediately after, I had extreme heart pains that subsided after three weeks. The heartache will never disappear, but the pain is gone. Is this possible?

REPLY

Yes, assuming the heartache is grief. It will disappear with adjustment to the loss. Activity helps this type of distress.

LACK ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS

M. H. writes: Is it possible for a person to exist on whisky and beer, without eating, and not damage the body?

REPLY

No. Whisky and beer are loaded with calories but are lacking in essential food elements such as proteins, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins, and minerals. Cirrhosis of the liver is the end result of living on alcohol and black coffee.

DEEP SLEEPER

F. S. writes: Would bad teeth cause a person to fall asleep practically anywhere? This is such a deep sleep that it is hard to awaken him.

REPLY

Drowsiness and toxicity go together, but not to this extent. Consult your physician about the possibility of narcolepsy. He will work with your dentist because the teeth should be given equal attention.

Now Big Brother Could Bill Driver For Freeway Use

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Auto license plate and credit card would become one and the same under a computerized toll system proposed to the Assembly Interim Committee on Transportation.

The system was one of many presented to the committee, which yesterday ended two days of hearings in its continuing search for a workable method of financing mass rapid transit.

Dudley F. Pegrum of UCLA presented it this way:

He said that electronic sensing devices would be stationed at all freeway on- and off-ramps. These devices would read and record numbers from license plates, as well as the time the vehicle entered, or left, the freeway system.

The information would be fed to a computer to determine how much time each month a motorist spent on the freeway. The motorist then would be billed for it.

Conditions On Mars Now Seem To Be More Hostile

By WILLIAM E. HOWARD
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Conditions on Mars are taking on an increasingly hostile look and now make the chances of life existing on the planet almost nil.

Further analysis of information radioed to earth during the historic July 14 flyby of Mariner IV shows:

The Martian atmosphere is unbreathable thin gas, composed of between 50 and 100 per cent carbon dioxide. (Previously, the atmosphere was thought to be mainly harmless nitrogen.)

Mariner IV scientists, reporting in the current issue of Science magazine, also indicate that there is so little atmosphere it will be impossible to parachute instruments on the planet. Any exploratory payloads will have to be eased down with retrorockets. This will greatly increase the cost and complexity of further Mars exploration.

When the Mariner IV spacecraft flew behind Mars its radio signal passed through the allowing scientists to analyze the density of the atmosphere and iits composition. At the time of the flyby they estimated the atmospheric pressure at the surface to be 10 to 20 millibars, compared to 1,000 millibars at the earth's surface

Space agency scientists have been counting on a parachute landing system for the Voyager spacecraft, which is expected to drop an instrumented capsule on Mars about 1971. If a parachute is out, they will have to use a bigger launch booster to accommodate landing rockets on the capsule. This will mean switching from the Saturn I-B booster to the Saturn V moon rocket and perhaps doubling the cost of the Voyager program, already pegged at about $1.5 billion.

Congress may find this development rather painful, particularly since the lack of water and air on Mars make the chances of Voyager finding life there extremely remote.

Now that it is also believed much of the surface is radioactive as well, the conditions for life are even worse. Two Mariner scientists theorize that the bombardment of high energy protons, thrown out of the sun in solar flares, has created radioactive isotopes in the surface. Again, this is a result of the lack of atmosphere. Earth's heavy atmosphere prevents these damaging rays from reaching the ground.

Some earth plants can adapt to radiation and they also consume carbon dioxide. There is some water vapor in the Martian air; enough to condense out in winter as frost. So it is possible some hardy lichen-like plants could survive.

But scientists who have examined Mariner IV's photos point out that it would have been terribly difficult for life to have ever gained a foothold on Mars in the first place. Only dusty craters are visible on the surface — all remarkably well preserved. There are no signs of erosion, indicating Mars probably never has had a thick atmosphere, and has never known rain or held a body of water big enough for life to start in.

Most of earth's atmospheric oxygen comes from plants. If there are carbon dioxide-consuming plants on Mars, some oxygen should be in the planet's atmosphere. But no oxygen has been detected.

New Basic Reading Plan For Sausalito

Two first grade classes are using the Chandler reading series, which is a departure from traditional readers, according to Supt. Charles W. Lavaroni.

"The idea is that a good initial reading program should reflect a more realistic vocabulary than appears in traditional readers and put more attention on the interests of 6-year-old," he said.

The Chandler series, developed in San Francisco under a Ford Foundation grant and field-tested in several large cities, "emphasizes things like trucks, supermarkets, playground experiences and bikes," Lavaroni explained.

Chandler Corp. gave the Sausalito district free use of the materials, including books, worksheets, phonetic work cards and films, Lavaroni said.

In return, the district will evaluate the company's teachers' manual, which is in prepublication form, he said. It will evaluate also the worth of the program.

The readers include unposed photos of youngsters in action which show what the story is about. "They were taken in San Francisco and show a cross-ethnic group," Lavaroni said.

The Chandler program will be supported by supplementary reading material and the Prime-O-Tec program, Lavaroni said.

At the end of the year the Chandler program will be compared with other reading programs being offered in the district "and we'll see which will do the best job," Lavaroni said.

Jury Renders Guilty Verdict In Drugs Case

A jury spent about two hours and 45 minutes deliberating after the three-day trial in Marin County Superior Court. Judge Thomas F. Keating set sentencing Tuesday, and ordered a probation report to be made at that time.

Wormuth, 24, of 830 B Street, San Rafael, was arrested March 29 along with Frederick Kitzmiller, also 24, of 56 Clayton Street, San Rafael. Kitzmiller later was found dead of an overdose of drugs.

Church Packed For Ellington Piano Concert

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A sellout crowd of 3,000 — paying up to $25 a seat — toe-tapped and applauded noisily as jazz pianist Duke Ellington played his form of church music in Grace Cathedral.

The Negro musician, saying "God has blessed" his career, played last night for an audience which included the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California, and members of San Francisco society.

The Nile Delta city of Damietta deported its pigeons to bright clean, modern lofts which cost $14,350, built in villages. The pigeons did not stay deported.

Student Law Program Lauded

CHICAGO (AP) — U.S. Supreme Justice Tom Clark has praised a new program for law students to assist court-appointed attorneys in federal court cases.

Announcing the program yesterday, Clark said it was "a happy day for the effective administration of justice in the federal courts."

The program, conducted under the Criminal Justice Act, is being financed by a grant from the National Legal Aid and Defense Association. The students will receive academic credit for their work.

Police Searching For Deadly Poison

Press Reports said the poison was enough to kill 100,000 persons on contact.

MARIN FILM FARE

'Umbrellas Of Cherbourg' A Tender Tale Of Romance

By LES DARD

There's something for everyone this weekend at Marin area movie houses. Let's take a look:

LARK THEATER

Now on screen is the rare romantic story played out as an operetta—a French import and winner of five international prizes — "The Umbrellas of Cherbourg."

Girl loves boy, not wisely, but too well. She is left with child when he goes off to Algeria in uniform. Girl's mother finds prosperous merchant to take both girl and baby as his own.

Years later, a big girl now, she meets her one-time lover. She is wealthy, chic, very social. He is still a mechanic, graduated to his own gas station; he has a pleasant wife, and little else.

Clearly though, once most intimate, they will be strangers evermore.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Four tales of sex make up this entry. The first is "The Telephone Call," which stars Virna Lisa and Nino Manfredi. He, as her husband, paces the apartment irritably, thinking low thoughts, while his wife carries on an insane, non-stop conversation with her mother.

RAFAEL THEATER

Boyer persuades Don Juan-like Rock Hudson to do him a "very special favor"—namely to provide romance for Miss Caron and awaken the woman in her.

NOVATO THEATER

Coming in Sunday is "Lord Jim," in which an exciting Joseph Conrad story comes to life in Southeast Asia.

The comedy co-feature is "Move Over Darling," starring Doris Day and Cary Grant.

PLAYHOUSE TIBURON

Now showing is the zany laugh-fest, "What's New, Pussycat?"

101 DRIVE-IN

MOTOR MOVIES

Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr. and Bing Crosby star in "Robin and the Seven Hoods," now on screen.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

SEQUOIA THEATER

Jane Fonda takes the title role, as a schoolmarm turned outlaw. Lee Marvin gets many a laugh as he plays two roles —a "good" gunfighter who accompanies Cat and her little gang, and a "bad" gunfighter, the one who kills Cat's father, in fact.

Britian Would Make More Munitions

ROME (AP)—British Defense Minister Denis Healey was quoted today as saying European members of the Atlantic Alliance must build more of their weapons or become "an industrial protectorate of the United States."

TV REVIEW

No Kowtow But Martin Show Good

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — At the start of his new one-hour NBC-TV variety series last night, Dean Martin explained that his show was the kind for which a fellow could take his wife, kids, mother and father—"and sit around a bar and watch." He explained further that his latest album was "Love Themes From the Clay-Liston Fight."

Martin has basically a riverboat gambler's appeal—and attitude—and for a matinee idol, it is certainly one of the most attractive images one can cultivate, especially since it is almost always bound to pay off. The question is whether the television audience feels comfortable with this devil-may-care attitude, or whether it likes to be kowtowed to, and buttered up by its favorite performers. It is this factor—plus the competition of CBS-TV's Thursday night movies and ABC-TV's drama series, "The Long, Hot Summer" — that will probably determine the fate of the Martin show.

Martin does not kowtow to, or butter up, an audience, any more than his friend Frank Sinatra does. He is polite, and he obviously cares—more than he likes to show—whether his program is being accepted, but basically his approach is: Here is what I have to offer. Here is what I am — take it or leave it.

For example, at the end of last night's show, he commented drolly, "Good night, folks, and keep those cards coming." It was a very funny line because obviously, since this was the premiere, no cards concerning the quality of the show could yet have been received; and because, even if he was being half-serious in his pitch, it was a lovely dig at the trite signoffs.

In short, I happen to like his approach because, even if one feels the relationship of performer and audience should be different in most cases, he is playing his attitude straight—laying himself on the line.

Thursday night, for example, though an "unscheduled" visit by some famous show business friends could easily have been done without, he still managed to present Sinatra, whose way with a song is poetic and continuing proof of why he is the best. He also presented another excellent singer, Diahann Carroll; the charming Krofft Puppets, who didn't have enough to do; and Bob Newhart, who demonstrated what might happen if Superman had to phone the cleaners because he got the wrong suit back

"The Long, Hot Summer," which also premiered last night, is a one hour continuing story centering around the rivalry between the wealthy patriarch of a small southern town (Edmond O'Brien) and a young man who returns there and intends to make up for the shaming of his father.

The series is strongly cast. In addition to O'Brien, there is Ruth Roman as the hotelkeeper who is his very good friend—and then there are two young performers who have been cast as closely to Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward as possible, Roy Thinnes (the returnee) and Nancy Malone (O'Brien's daughter), and they both deliver effectively. But as strong as the casting is, and despite the commercial attractiveness of the very basic sort of story, it is hard to see where the tale can go except toward a soap opera sort of continuity.
